Special Unit Asks Admission Of 13 West, 5 East States; Assembly Votes Today

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—The U.N. Special Political Committee overwhelmingly recommended Wednesday the admission of 13 free world and five Communist states, including Outer Mongolia, into the world organization.

The committee approved by 52 votes to 2 a Canadian proposal which calls on the Security Council to admit the 18 applicant states during the current Assembly session, scheduled to wind up on Dec. 16. Five countries abstained.

Britain and Russia supported the proposal. Nationalist China and Cuba voted against it. The United States, Greece, France, Belgium and Israel abstained.

The 18 states covered by the Canadian proposal are: Austria, Italy, Finland, Ireland, Japan, Ceylon, Cambodia, Jordan, Lybia, Laos, Nepal, Portugal, Spain and Communist Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary Romania and Outer Mongolia.

The recommendation for admitting the 18 countries now goes to the General Assembly where it is expected to pass by the required two-thirds majority vote. The Assembly will meet Thursday morning.

The 28 sponsors of the Canadian resolution strove for an early meeting of the Security Council this week or next to act on the recommendation.

Not Scheduled

No meeting of the 11-nation council has been scheduled yet, since the major powers still are discussing means of circumventing threats by Russia and Nationalist China to cast vetoes on the question.

In its desire to keep the Canadian "package deal" intact, the Special Political Committee rejected Cuban amendments which would have reaffirmed the U.N. charter principle that all candidate states must be judged on their individual merits for membership.

The approved recommendation does not list the 18 states by name, referring simply to "the pending applications for membership of all those 13 countries about which no problem of unification arises."

The wording of the proposal covers the 13 free states and the Communist five but excludes South Korea, Vietnam and Germany, all of which are divided.

Withdrew

Cuba had proposed addition of South Korea and the Republic of Vietnam to the list but withdrew the motion. Russia also had submitted an amendment listing all 18 by name but this, too, was withdrawn in face of general desire to keep the "package deal" as general as possible.

The recommendation, even after its expected approval by the assembly, does not bind the Security Council to adopting the proposal. The council must decide for itself if and how it will approve some or all of the proposed candidates.

Should the Security Council vote to admit all or some of the 18, the General Assembly would have to reconvene to endorse by two-thirds vote the Council's action.

Russia served notice earlier it will insist that Outer Mongolia be among the first to be voted upon in the order of voting in the Security Council to insure the Asian satellite's admission ahead of the other candidate states.

NAM Pact Denied

Meany Outlines Live, Let Live Attempt

NEW YORK (AP) — Labor chief George Meany said Wednesday the National Assn. of Manufacturers has agreed to discuss his suggestion for a "live-and-let-live" labor-industry agreement. The NAM denied it had talked to Meany about it.

The NAM said it had invited Meany, as head of the AFL-CIO to address its annual meeting Friday, but said no authorized NAM representatives had talked with Meany about anything else.

Meany had outlined his suggestion in an article in the Sunday New York Times. He told newsmen Wednesday NAM representatives had talked to him and arranged for discussions on a "staff level."

Nam spokesmen were obviously surprised by Meany's statement.

Same Meet

NAM board Chairman Charles R. Sligh Jr., said Meany had been invited to tell the NAM meeting what labor expects of industry. Sligh is to address the same meeting on what industry expects of labor.

Sligh said he was happy Meany had accepted the invitation but added, "No authorized representative of the NAM has been in contact with George Meany except to invite and make arrangements for him to speak. . . ."

Meany declined to comment on the apparent conflict Wednesday night and indicated he would issue a statement Thursday.

A spokesman for Sligh said the NAM could make no comment on the merits of Meany's idea for an over-all labor-management goodwill agreement without taking it up with the rest of the NAM directors.

Meany said he had nothing specific in mind as to what should be contained in any labor-management pact, but said there certainly should be room for some kind of agreement.

Good Will

"It should be quite possible to reach an agreement if they have any good will in our American system, and I am sure they do," Meany said.

"After all, they are just as interested in seeing the system work and operating prosperously as we are.

"Continuing to snipe at each other is a bit archaic."

The AFL-CIO convention, meanwhile, heard Marion B. Folsom, secretary of the department of health, education and welfare, declare that the Eisenhower adminstration would send to Congress a program "to help build thousands of schools" across the nation.

Organized

Following the day's convention sessions, the Industrial Union Department of the AFL-CIO was organized with 31 former CIO unions plus 35 former AFL unions.

Many estimated the IUD membership at about six million, with 3.8 million in former CIO unions, and 2.2 million in former AFL unions.

Walter Reuther and James Carey, president and secretary treasurer of the former CIO, respectively, were elected to similar IUD posts.

Folsom disclosed the Republican school building plans in a speech before the AFL-CIO 1,400 delegates.

Accident Kills Palmyra Woman, Hurts Husband

A 23 year old Palmyra mother of two small children was killed in a violent three-vehicle collision five miles east of Lincoln on U.S. 34 late Wednesday night. Her husband and a truck driver were injured. Both were in fair condition early Thursday.

Dead was Mrs. Ann M. Jenkins, who was killed when the station wagon she was driving went out of control and hit head-on a semi-trailer truck loaded with 15 tons of corn.

In fair condition was her husband, Harold E. Jenkins, 27, who received scalp lacerations and a concussion. The semi's driver, Jonathan William Meyer, 19, of Wiggins, Colo., was in fair condition with similar injuries.

After the truck-car smashup, the semi veered across the highway and a car following the Jenkins crashed into it. The driver, Madeline M. Hiatt, 27, of Walton, was uninjured.

Christmas Gifts

State Highway Patrolman Gib Waltman, who investigated the accident, said it took an hour and a half to free Mrs. Jenkins' body from the mangled station wagon that was loaded down with Christmas gifts.

The Jenkins vehicle had to be virtually torn apart in order to get her out, he said.

Mrs. Jenkins was survived by two young children who were at home in the care of a baby sitter at the time of the accident.

Waltman said the Jenkins car went out of control, apparently, when it hit a rain gutter and swerved over into the lane of the westbound truck. The station wagon was traveling east.

Load Of Corn

The truck, registered to the Messinger Co. of Greeley, Colo. was Lincoln-bound with its load of corn. It landed, right-side up, in a ditch on the south side of the highway.

A car in which Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Frohlich of Eagle were riding was following the Jenkins and Hiatt vehicles, but narrowly avoided piling into the collision's debris.

The injured were taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital by ambulance.

Russ Brushed Off Surplus Food Offer

WASHINGTON (INS)—The State Department disclosed Wednesday that Russia has brushed off an offer made by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to sell the Soviet Union surplus American farm products.

Department spokesman Henry Suydam said the offer was made in general terms by Dulles at the recent Geneva Foreign Ministers meeting to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Suydam said that the two men were talking at a private meeting on Nov. 13, three days before the end of the Geneva conference, when the subject of trade was brought up by Molotov.

The spokesman said that Dulles informed Molotov that if he was interested in trade of non-strategic materials, there was a "great possibility" something could be worked out.

Dulles told the Soviet Foreign Minister he was giving away "no great secret" by mentioning that there were huge farm surpluses in the United States and that perhaps Russia would be interested in buying some.

Suydam said that Molotov made "no response" to the suggestion.

Navy's Giant Multi-Jet Lost

600-Mile-An-Hour Seaplane Sinks In Chesapeake Bay; Four-Man Crew Killed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy's new SeaMaster, a huge jet seaplane with a speed of 600 miles an hour, exploded in flight Wednesday and fell in shattered pieces into Chesapeake Bay.

Three employes of the Glenn L. Martin Co. of Baltimore, the plane's builder, and a naval officer were aboard when the four-engined craft broke up on a test flight. One body, attached to a parachute, was recovered but had not been identified.

Sections of the seaplane sank in from 50 to 60 feet of water at the mouth of the Potomac River in the lower reaches of the bay. Also lost were the complete navigational, bombing and communications installations planned for the new air giant, whose tail assembly was three stories high.

Trailed Black Smoke

Eyewitnesses said the SeaMaster was trailing heavy black smoke a few moments before it exploded "right in the middle." It appeared to break into several pieces, and one parachute was seen to open. There was another blast reported as the nose hit the water.

"If anybody lived through that it would be a miracle," reported Eng. 3.C Tommy Petty, aboard a Coast Guard boat searching for survivors and pieces of the wreckage.

The Navy and the aircraft company issued the following list of those aboard:

List Of Crew

Maurice Bernhard, Townson, Md. pilot.

Herbert Scudder, Chase, Md., senior flight engineer.

James Hentschel, Baltimore, flight test engineer.

Lt. Cmdr. Victor Utoff, 38, Piney Point, Md., Navy project officer.

Navy authorities at the scene of the crash identified Utogg as the son of Baroness Leda Wrangell, believed to have been a member of the pre-Communist Russian nobility, and now a resident of Northport, N.Y.

They said his home was at Stratford, Conn., where his wife and four children live.

The SeaMaster, the hottest seaplane ever to come off the drawing boards, put on a brilliant and spectacular show at Baltimore last Nov. 2 for Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, and Adm. Earl Mountbatten, first British sea lord.

At that time Burke announced the Navy would begin receiving deliveries of the seaplane next spring and wanted "as many as we can get."

The SeaMaster made its first flight July 14, powered by four Allison J71 jet engines with afterburners for extra power on takeoff. It was designed to cruise at 40,000 feet, capable of carrying a 30,000-pound payload.

Its two primary missions, according to the Navy, would be mine-laying and photographic reconnaissance. It was also strong enough to carry atomic bombs, and some engineers felt it could be adapted to a nuclear-powered engine.

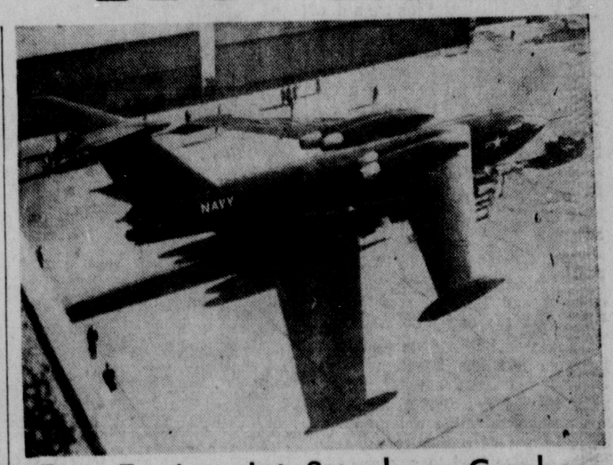

134 Feet Long

The SeaMaster is 134 feet long with a swept-back wingspan of 100 feet.

The SeaMaster had had more than 50 hours in the air without incident. It has been acclaimed by the Navy as promising remarkable developments in air-sea power.

Adm. Burke called the seaplane "a beautiful performer" after the Nov. 2 demonstrating flight.

The plane that crashed was the first experimental model; another SeaMaster has been built and is ready for testing.

Four-Engine Jet Seaplane Crashes

Snow Falls In Southeast

Snow began falling in southeast Nebraska late Wednesday night and early Thursday, following out the forecast of hazy skies and colder weather for the state.

Lincoln's snow flurries began about midnight, but several other southeast points had reported light snow earlier. Beatrice had a light drizzle and Tobias reported a swirling snowstorm.

Grand Island, too, reported snow early Thursday.

Generally cloudy conditions held out over the rest of the state and the forecasts said they would last through the day. Highs of 10 in the northeast and around the 30s in the southwest were also predicted.

Highs Wednesday rose in general to the 30s, with Imperial's 41 topping all other state points. Lincoln had a high of 40. Wednesday lows dipped down as far as 0 at Norfolk and 6 at North Platte.

Ike Calls His Aids To Meet

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (INS) — President Eisenhower Wednesday night unexpectedly scheduled meetings Thursday morning with his top advisers on foreign policy, national defense and budget matters.

Without explanation, White House news secretary James C. Hagerty announced that the President will confer separately with his aids prior to his 9 a.m. EST parley with the National Security Council at Camp David, his retreat near Thurmont, Md.

Mr. Eisenhower is scheduled to talk with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey and Budget Director Rowland R. Hughes at the early meetings.

These huddles stirred some speculation that a hitch may have developed in plans which were understood to have been virtually completed Tuesday for a 1957 defense budget of about $34,500,000,000.

Jobs, Pay, Industry Expansion All Rise

. . . U.S. Issues 3-Way Bullish Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government issued bullish reports on jobs, income, and industrial expansion Wednesday as the economy raced toward the close of its biggest year.

Employment set a record for November of 64,807,000, despite the usual cold weather drop from October, the Commerce and Labor Departments said. Factory jobs took an unseasonal jump to a postwar peak.

Unemployment rose to 2,398,000 as a million workers dropped out of agriculture. But new hiring by manufacturers, retailers and wholesalers offset two-thirds of the loss in farming.

A second report, from the Commerce Department, disclosed that the personal income of Americans climbed to an annual rate of 309½ billion dollars in October.

This was more than 1½ billions higher than in September—a billion-dollar gain in wages and salaries, because of rising pay scales and higher employment, plus a half-billion-dollar rise in interest, dividends and the income of business proprietors.

Continue Up

Still a third report indicated that industry's spending for new plant and equipment — outlays which make possible greater production and employment — will continue to rise through the first three months of 1956.

The plans of businessmen, as reported to the Commerce Department and the Securities and Exchange Commission, call for plant and equipment outlays at a record rate of $31,600,000,000 annually in the January-March quarter.

Total outlays for this year were reckoned at $28,300,000,000. This equals the 1953 record and is 1½ billions above 1954. Next quarter's rate will be 12 per cent higher, the SEC-Commerce report predicted.

'Quite Rapid'

The rise this year has been "quite rapid," the agencies said. From a 25½-billion-dollar rate at the start of the year, it has climbed to almost 31 billions this quarter, passing the previous record rate along the way.

Railroads, hastening to make up their shortages of freight cars and other equipment, plan to boost their spending next quarter by 55 per cent over the past year's average. Utilities, however, are leveling off; they plan only a 5 per cent rise.

ChamberBoard Not To Deed Building To NU

Directors of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce Wednesday decided not to favor disposing of the Chamber's four-story building at 11th and P streets and specifically decided against offering it to the University of Nebraska.

Action was taken at a special meeting of the Chamber board held for the purpose of discussing a recommendation of a special committee that the building be deeded to the University in return for 25 years of expense-free occupancy of the Chamber's offices on the second floor.

The University had shown some interest in using the high-ceilinged third and fourth floors for television operations of the University's station, KUON-TV.

President Merle M. Hale said that this was the third special board meeting held on the subject, and that the study began in July, 1953. Earl Luff, then Chamber President, named a committee consisting of several former Chamber officers and directors and headed by Carl Ganz, for the purpose.

The committee included Bennett S. Martin, Frank Williams, Walker Battey, T. A. Sick, Chester H. Ruwe and Ralph Tyler Sr. Clarence E. Swanson also was a member originally, but resigned when he was named to the University Board of Regents. The committee was continued by President John E. Curtiss in 1954 and by President Merle M. Hale in 1955.

In his committee report to the Chamber directors, Chairman Ganz stated that the group believed the organization could get along without the dining room and recreation facilities provided by the building.

Wednesday noon the Chamber directors also recommended that the regular Chamber of Commerce building committee next year explore ways and means of greater utilization of the non-office areas. The first floor is rented to three business firms.

—Chronic Violators Are Primary Target Of Health Inspectors—

Eating Places To Get Closer Check On Cleanliness

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

A stepped up campaign to improve general health standards in Lincoln's eating houses appeared to be in the offing Thursday.

The subject will be considered at a meeting Thursday afternoon of the city attorney's office, the department of Health Safety and Welfare, and the city-county health department.

Lee Sanger, chief sanitarian with the department, said the major effort of the new program will be aimed at improving the standards of the chronic violators of health regulations. He said he looked toward the setting up of a hearing board to review cases involving persistent violators who refuse to improve food handling operations in their establishments.

The present method of threatening court action for violators has proved too time consuming, Sanger said. The new system would do away with this.

The sanitarian said inspections of the city's 285 eating establishments are made on the average of twice to three times a year. This rate will be stepped up in the future, Sanger said, with the use of a new short form by inspectors and by the addition of another sanitary inspector to the present force.

There are now four full-time sanitary inspectors, one short of normal strength following a retirement.

Sanger said that "In all honesty, eating places in Lincoln are a little above average." He added "But I'd still like it known the citizens have a right to expect better sanitation."

He said, "there are some places where you can eat in confidence. And there are some where you can't."

The big problem in the inspection program, the sanitarian said, is the frequency of inspection. As a rule, every inspection is followed up by a return visit a week later to check on violations reported during the original check.

Most places, Sanger noted, "go along" with the inspectors and try to correct conditions marked against them in the report. For those who don't "go along," Sanger said, the Health Department wants to step up inspections to four or more a year.

During the past six months, the Health Department has made close to 300 inspections and approximately 700 visits. All food handlers, Sanger said, are required to take a chest X-ray and blood test before being given a food handlers card. and in the last six months, 2,250 persons have attended lectures on food handling.

Under present methods of operation, eating places found with obvious violations are asked to correct the situation within a certain time limit. At this time, if the violations are not corrected, the Health Department asks for an official court complaint.

Generally, if the conditions are corrected before the complaint comes up for hearing, the charges are dropped. Under the new system, if the hearing board decides to issue a complaint the persons charged will be taken into court.

Sanger said it has been found that good sanitation conditions in eating places mean the food itself is palatable. He said this generally is the mark of a well-run establishment.

Sanitarians check for covered food, clean utensils and proper washing facilities.

Proper facilities for personnel to wash also must be available, Sanger pointed out. All these and other factors go into a clean and well-run eating place.

He said the owners owe it to their patrons to keep them this way.

Sanitary Methods Checked

Three-Shot Polio Vaccine System Retained

Experts Decide On No Change

WASHINGTON (INS)—Top polio experts decided unanimously Wednesday against stretching the Salk vaccine supply by giving youngsters only one inoculation instead of three.

Dr. Scheele

U. S. Surgeon General Leonard Scheele announced the decision to continue the present system.

The announcement came after a conference among high-ranking health officials and Dr. Jonas Salk, developer of the anti-polio vaccine.

Scheele said in a statement that although a single injection "produces a marked degree of immunity, it was found that there is not enough scientific evidence on the duration of immunity after a single dose to lead to any recommendation for a change in the present dosage."

Best Results

The surgeon general added that the experts unanimously concluded that best results are obtained by giving youngsters a second shot four to six weeks after the initial dose "or as soon as possible thereafter," with a booster dose seven months or longer after the second injection.

The experts were considering extending the supply of vaccine by giving one dose to as many of the nation's 60 million children as possible before the start of the 1956 polio season next spring.

However, Salk, and Basil O'Connor, head of the National Foundation for infantile paralysis both said after the meeting that this idea was voted down.

The experts received a special government report at the meeting declaring that youngsters who were given one injection last spring received significant protection against polio. The study said that the paralytic polio rate was from one and one-half to more than five times greater among unvaccinated than among vaccinated persons receiving a single inoculation.

Soviets Hold Pair Of GIs In E. Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—East Berlin Communists reported Wednesday arrests of two American soldiers embroiled in a street fight. But the East Berliners waived their newly claimed "sovereignty" by turning the men over to the Soviet military authorities.

The Soviet sector radio and afternoon newspaper Berliner Zeitung am Abend said the two soldiers attacked a night club performer outside a bar in East Berlin and beat him unconscious. They said the men tried to flee to the West in a taxi but the driver delivered them to the Communist Peoples police.

The government-controlled East press said authorities of the (East German) German Democratic Republic agreed to release the soldiers to Soviet custody.

The U.S. Army sent an official inquiry to the Russians and were told an investigation would be made.

Identity of the men was not given in the Eastern reports.

Woman, 91, 2 Daughters Hurt In Crash

A 91-year-old woman and her two daughters were injured late Wednesday afternoon in a two-car accident in Lincoln.

The mother, Mrs. Clara A. Driggs of 3405 East Pershing Rd., apparently struck her head when she was thrown from one of the vehicles.

At Bryan Memorial Hospital she was reported holding her own. According to hospital authorities, she was apparently the most seriously injured. Injuries were not completely determined.

Also hospitalized were her two daughters, Mrs. Inez Lennon, 67, and Mrs. Clara D. Swanson, 57, the driver of one vehicle. Both reside at 3405 East Pershing Rd. Their injuries were undetermined.

Mrs. Lennon was reported in fairly good condition and Mrs. Swanson was in good condition at Bryan.

Officers said the vehicle driven by Mrs. Swanson entered Van Dorn St. at 20th St., striking broadside an auto driven by Rita Shaw, 33, of 3009 Sheridan. The Shaw car was going west on Van Dorn at the time of impact, officers said.

Skid marks from the Shaw vehicle measured 18 feet before the impact and fourt feet after, police said.

Mrs. Swanson was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way.

Ed Lamb 'Innocent' Vote Filed

FCC Commissioner Finds No Red Links

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Federal Communications Commission examiner held Wednesday that publisher-broadcaster Edward Lamb is innocent of allegations he once had subversive associations with Communists.

The examiner, Herbert Sharfman, recommended therefore that Lamb, a Toledo millionaire, be permitted to continue operating his Erie, Pa., television station, WICU.

Sharfman's 140-page decision—which is subject to commission approval—resulted from eight months of hearings in which 32 witnesses and attorneys for the FCC's Broadcast Bureau and for Lamb piled up a 7,000-page, 2-million-word record of testimony, exhibits and legal arguments.

Though the basic issue in the controversial and at times highly emotional case was renewal of license for WICU-TV, the hearing revolved around the question of whether Lamb had ever knowingly associated with Communists and contributed money to them.

Lamb — a lawyer, broadcaster, publisher and business executive—denied the allegations repeatedly before the hearing ever began in September, 1954 and denied them again during 10 days of testimony. He denounced the whole proceeding as "a most horrible frameup."

Sharfman's decision was contrary to the recommendations of commission attorneys, who said in an Aug. 15 brief that the hearing had shown that Lamb had not told the truth when he denied past Red associations and that in view of what they called his "misrepresentations" and "concealments" he should be denied the right to operate WICU.

"There is no proof," said Sharfman, "that Lamb personally engaged in any subversive activity," and added:

"Lamb's possible naivete in allying himself with these groups (various organizations mentioned in the hearing) . . . cannot, on this record be transformed into something more sinister; his professed sympathy with the underdog, his espousal of 'liberal' causes, and his prominence in the community, undoubtedly made him attractive to certain organizations, and the first two factors must also have made him personally susceptible.

Clever Bandit Strikes Bank

LAKE GENEVA, Wis. (INS)—A knowledgeable, early-bird gunman, wearing a flesh-colored Halloween mask, robbed the First National Bank of Lake Geneva Wednesday—taking only old bills and the bank's serial number lists.

Estimates of his loot ranged from $50,000 to $100,000 in used, hard-to-trace bills.

Without the serial number lists, bank officials said it would be impossible to trace the stolen money.

The gunman, who showed an expert's knowledge of bank operations, was already inside the bank when employes began arriving for work.

After the nine employes arrived, he shoved them into a vault and then escaped in a bank clerk's car. Before leaving he sent in a false fire alarm to divert attention from himself.

Bank Vice President George Allen, who was bound with picture wire to a basement post by the gunman, said the bandit boasted he had "keys" to the Lake Geneva Bank and "a dozen others."

Press Secretary Hagerty Says:

'Harriman First Candidate Nominated By Tammany'

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty Wednesday called Gov. Averell Harriman of New York the first presidential candidate in history to be nominated by Tammany Hall.

That was a reference to a recent statement in Washington by Carmine DeSapio, leader of New York City's Tammany organization, that Harriman will be more than a "token" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination next year.

What prompted Hagerty's remark was Harriman's attack on administration foreign policy in a speech to the AFL-CIO convention in New York. While Hagerty's rap at the governor had the weight of his own high White House office behind it, it didn't necessarily have the endorsement of Eisenhower.

"I am talking for myself," Hagerty told a news conference.

He said he didn't know whether the President was familiar with his views.

Eisenhower himself put in nearly two hours at his office Wednesday surveying the state of the national economy and getting in preliminary work on the annual economic report he will send to Congress next month.

Conferring with him were his personal economic adviser, Dr. Gabriel Hauge, and Dr. Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers.

Asked whether the three conferees found the economic situation pretty good, Hagerty replied: "Yeah. Sure."

Beatrice, 11 Other Towns Darkened By Power Failure

Lincoln Star Special

BEATRICE — A power blackout hit Beatrice and 11 other smaller towns to the west of here for some 10 to 20 minutes Wednesday night.

Power was restored after a slight delay, but not until after switchboards and hospitals had put emergency power apparatus into operation.

Power officials were uncertain about the cause, but it was reported a break in the line connecting an NPPS substation and Consumers Public Power District's Beatrice substation was responsible.

Even after most of the power was restored, some of Beatrice still remain darkened. City street lights and some businesses were still out at midnight. The break happened about 10:45 p.m.

Shoppers Don't Bother Holdup

OMAHA (AP)—A gunman walked into a drug store here Wednesday night and held up two clerks while a dozen shoppers looked over counter displays. He escaped with an undetermined amount of money taken from Mrs. Walter H. Rowley Jr., and Craig Swanson.

Swanson handed the gunman a bunch of bills from the cash register—then the bandit noticed a $1 bill left in the till and asked for that too. He also took three rolls of pennies.

Doctor Held In Kidnaping Of Own Son

YUMA, Ariz. (AP)—A Texas doctor's cross-country flight with two 4-year-old children ended Wednesday with his arrest on a charge of kidnaping his own son.

Dr. Frank Sainburg, 36, of Big Spring, Tex., was seized in a room of the Flamingo motel in this southwestern Arizona city.

His son, Phillip, and Mary Jean Nance, daughter of his present wife by a previous marriage, were with him and unharmed.

Dr. Sainburg is charged with kidnaping Phillip from Ithaca, N.Y.: Nov. 14. The boy's custody had been granted to his mother.

Dr. Sainburg is being held in the County Jail under $50,000 bond.

'Publicity'

The children were placed in the care of a jail matron.

The doctor refused to discuss the case with newsmen, saying only, "Publicity won't do me any good."

Police said he told them, "This is all a big mistake."

Dr. Sainburg, former staff member of the Veterans Hospital at Big Spring, left Longview, Tex., with the children last Friday. He had been fined $100 and ordered jailed for contempt of court for failure to surrender custody of Phillip to the mother, Doris Blanchard of Ithaca.

NSEA Group Meeting Opens Here Friday

Members of the Delegate Assembly, legislative body of the Nebraska State Education Assn., will meet here Friday and Saturday.

The 175 delegates representing local education associations, along with a number of alternates, will attend the 89th annual state meeting.

Also taking part will be officers and members of the state executive committee and the presidents and presidents-elect of the six districts.

The group will elect officers to succeed Dr. John Rice of Wayne State Teachers College, president, and Mrs. Kathryn Hurst of Lincoln, vice president.

Gladys V. Andersen of Lincoln and Mrs. Mildred Lang of Fremont are nominees to head the Delegate Assembly.

Lawrence Lemon of Scottsbluff and L. E. Hanson of Ogallala have been nominated for vice president.

There also will be nominations from the floor.

Dr. Robert F. Williams, executive secretary of the Virginia Education Assn., will speak at a dinner Friday night at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Plan Services For 3 Victims Of Auto Crash

Lincoln Star Special

CENTRAL CITY, Neb. — Funeral services for Herbert Fairbairn, 6, one of three rural school youngsters fatally injured in a highway crash near here Tuesday, will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at Fairview Methodist Church.

Meanwhile, arrangements are pending for Carolyn Gress, 9, and her sister, Marlene, 7, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gress, farmers living northwest of Central City.

The three children lost their lives when the car in which they were riding on their way home from school Tuesday was involved in a collision on Highway 92, northwest of Central City.

Still listed in critical condition in a Grand Island hospital late Wednesday were Stanley Gress, 49, driver of the car carrying the youngsters, and his son, Galen, 5, another passenger in the Gress car.

Others in the Gress car were Howard Fairbairn, 9, Bonnie Fairbairn, 11, and Beverly Fairbairn, 8. They escaped with minor injuries.

George Winslade, 43, Omaha, was identified as driver of the second car. He, together with a passenger in his car, Harold Potter, 52, also of Omaha, were hospitalized at Grand Island.

The Fairbairn children's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fairbairn, who live northwest of Central City. Herbert Fairbairn's survivors include his parents; three sisters, Bonnie, Beverly and barbara; and two brothers, Howard and George.

Rules 'Worse'

TULSA, Okla. (INS)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis), charged Wednesday night that Army security regulations are "worse" now than they were before the celebrated case of Maj. Irving Peress.

McCarthy blamed what he called the "daily brow-beating of Army officials" by Sen. Thomas Hennings (D-Mo), chairman of a Senate subcommittee which recently investigated alleged violations of constitutional rights in the government's security program.

Ike Could 'Sweep Nation,' Congressman Says; Peaceful Atomic Energy Uses Outlined At Dinner

By ELLIS RALL
Star Staff Writer

Following an address before a Lincoln Dinner Club audience of some 250 persons, Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa) told The Star that, "I certainly hope that Mr. Eisenhower will run" for another term.

The Congressman said he was convinced that if the President would run, he would "sweep the country, including the South." He said a tour of 35 states indicated that Eisenhower was the favorite.

At the dinner meeting, Rep. Van Zandt told the group that "the next 15 to 20 years is going to change the American way of living through the peaceful application of atomic energy."

He outlined the development of the atomic and hydrogen weapons before revealing the areas of peacetime uses now being probed.

Ag Helped

In the field of agriculture he told the group that bug and disease resistant plans have been developed through the use of radioactive materials.

A great deal of work is now being done in the field of food sterilization with radio active gamma rays, the member of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy said.

With him he had examples of food that had been sterilized by gamma rays. Without refrigeration, he said, these foods will last indefinitely without refrigeration.

Researchers have met with a great deal of success in this field, but there are many problems to iron out, he said, before the process is practical to the public.

Taste Added

For instance, sterilized milk takes on a garlic taste and some vegetables like tomatoes and lettuce cannot stand the process, he said. Others, like potatoes, flour, onions, meats, etc., are not affected by the rays.

Cost estimates, he said, have shown that potatoes and onions can be preserved for $4 a ton, seafood costs a penny a pound and a 100 pound bag of flour can be treated for two cents.

Uses of atomic by-products has aided the medical fraternity considerably, he said. Radioactive isotopes are used in the treatment of many diseases including cancer.

It is not far from the day the doctor will carry around in his kit a portable X-ray unit operated with isotopes, he said. He displayed a 20-pound model that cost $50,000 to perfect. These may soon go into mass production, he observed, and will come within reach of the professional pocketbook.

Millions Saved

Annually $14.4 billions is spent by the government in aiding industry with atomic materials, saving the industries millions of dollars a month, Rep. Van Zandt said.

At a question period following the address the group displayed interest in the food sterilization process and disposal of waste from atomic power plants.

Rep. Van Zandt answered the inquiries by saying that it will be another 3-5 years before sterilization is perfected.

Atomic waste, he said, is either buried in metal containers at sea, in graphite bricks in the ground or filter buried in the earth. He saw no immediate danger in this type of disposal.

He displayed a small cubic inch piece of uranium metal which he said had the heat potential of 1,500 tons of coal.

Congressman Van Zandt Welcomed

Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa), who spoke at the Lincoln Dinner club Wednesday, is being welcomed to Lincoln at the Air Force Base by Brig. Gen. Claude E. Putnam (left) and Col. William G. Gillespie (right). Van Zandt was national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars for three terms and is a member of the House atomic energy and armed services committee.

Police Check Forced Entry Of Buildings

Two public school buildings in Lincoln, one the Board of Education Administration Building, were burglarized in vain during the night Tuesday.

Police investigating the two burglaries said the break-in at the administration building evidently was done by someone who knew his way around.

The other attempted burglary, at Lincoln High School, resulted only in one broken window and the loss of a split-end wrecking bar. Entrance was gained to the school through a window.

Police received a call to the administration building at 4:45 a.m. Investigation showed someone had broken into the building through a window and had entered the maintenance room by ripping a metal plate from a heavy wire door.

The dial and hinges were then knocked off one of two safes concealed under a stairway in the building. Entrance was not gained.

David Sell, assistant superintendent in charge of business affairs for the Lincoln school system, said no money was reported missing.

Damage was estimated at $75.

Not Returning

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) —The Union of South Africa welcomed the U.N. Assembly's decision to drop a probe into the country's racial policies but declared it is not returning to the current Assembly session.

South Africa said, however, it is prepared to return to the 1956 Assembly meeting depending on the action taken by the U. N. on an Indian complaint against the union state over its handling of people of Indian origin.

Lloyd Criticizes

LONDON (INS)—British Defense Minister Selwyn Lloyd criticized the speeches of touring Soviet leaders and also Russian arms-peddling policy in the Middle East.

In a luncheon address he said speeches of Soviet party boss Nikita Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin in India and Burma were "bound to stir up a certain amount of ill-feeling."

Tallest Planned

DALLAS (AP)—The Southland Life Insurance Co. announced a new building it plans for downtown Dallas will be 47 stories . . . the tallest west of the Mississippi River. Construction will begin December 31.

Lincoln Lodge 19 Elects H. E. Nesseler

Howard E. Nesseler was elected master of the Lincoln Lodge 19, AF&AM. Other officers and their posts:

For The Full Facts

It can be granted that North Dakota's Bill Langer is never happier than when he has his fingers in somebody's hair. Life can be beautiful to him, it would appear, when he is locking horns with a political antagonist. Early in the week, Sen. Langer suggested that the principals in the Dixon-Yates controversy be called up to reveal whether campaign contributions had been received in the presidential campaign of 1952 by either political party from either Dixon or Yates. No doubt Sen. Langer chuckled heartily to himself while voicing his demand for a showdown on campaign contributions.

But whatever may be the outcome of the Dixon-Yates episode, the full facts should become available to the American people. A most charitable view of the Dixon-Yates contract, negotiated, it was said, at the direction of the President and for months vigorously defended by the administration, is that it was bungled from the very beginning and handled in a manner that business of this kind should not be. For the time being, at least, it does not appear that Dixon-Yates is going to make any great or lasting impression upon the American people. They may look upon it as bad business, but if they do, they are ready to brush it aside and to be on their way.

It is that attitude, perhaps, that suggests that no effort should be spared in bringing all of the facts to light.

Nebraska's Position

State Education Commissioner Freeman Decker uttered a puzzler on federal aid to education when he talked to the Nebraska Citizens Council.

Said he, "I am personally opposed to federal aid in general." But he added that "We in Nebraska won't turn down any aid if it is given to us."

The Citizens Council which has declared itself against federal aid accepted the pronouncement which upon examination pretty well seems to sum up the Nebraska attitude.

It is a curious position, one that says we will not share in any decision that will bring forth federal aid, but if someone else performs that service we will be happy to accept the benefits. When examined closely, that can be interpreted as saying we are for federal aid. It is just the decision we do not like.

Some would approach the problem from another angle, one that involves the state's will and capacity to meet the nation's and the community's manifest needs and then take an all-out position one way or the other. And certainly no consideration should banish the question of educational need for national security nor the state's responsibility in that concern. If the states can achieve both needs, there certainly is no need for federal entry into the field. But the question is answerable by facts, not emotions.

Right Here At Home

The Milwaukee Journal does a very excellent job of turning the light inward.

"The man was kicking about taxes and 'Big Government' and finally found consolation in his own statement that: 'Well, at least here in Wisconsin we don't think everyone has to get on the public payroll—bet we don't come near that national average of about one out of 20 getting his living off the taxpayers." . . .

After a careful check and some reflection, the Journal comes up with this conclusion:

"Without counting Wisconsin residents who work out of the state for the federal government or who are in the Armed Forces, the fact is that about one in every 25 Wisconsin persons is on some public payroll or other in the state."

Wisconsin has 20,100 federal employees as contrasted to 18,800 full-time state employees and 5,000 part-time employees. Wisconsin municipalities employ about 75,400 regular employees and 20,400 on a part-time basis. Which adds up to some 139,700. In short, though we do not recognize it, we have Big Government right here at home. Milwaukee alone, the Journal finds, has more people on its payroll than live in any but 24 of the state's municipalities, and more than live in any of 14 counties when the 1950 census was taken.

It is anybody's guess what the figures in Nebraska would show. Fact is, however, that on the local level, government has grown enormously, witness these recent months in Nebraska with the Board of Control expanding payrolls substantially in the operation of institutions under the jurisdiction of the board. It is not simply a matter of Big Government back in Washington. Government has become big wherever we may look, and it has become big in part because we have called upon the expert to tell us how to do it.

Of Men And Things

News note: "Rep. Jackson B. Chase Tuesday confirmed he will not seek re-election in the Second (Nebraska) Congressional District."

★

Mr. Chase is not the first Nebraskan to get his fill of Washington air in a hurry. If we recall correctly, Terry Carpenter, who later was to become known as "Terrible Terry," got himself elected to a seat in the House of Representatives in Washington in the early years of the F. D. R. trusteeship of national affairs, after a few months of loneliness decided he'd had enough and came back to spend his time with the home folks. It was the late John H. Morehead, however, who gave what seemed to us the most sensible reason for refusing to serve longer in the lower house of Congress. Mr. Morehead had served the people of Nebraska as their governor; in that post had compiled a distinguished record. He had taken office with the treasury registering warrants, with the general fund overdrawn to the tune of more than a million dollars, although from the very beginning Nebraska had a constitutional ban against bonded indebtedness. Registering warrants was something else again, apparently. In less than two years under the Morehead administration it was no longer necessary to register warrants — the general fund had a snug balance—and before Mr. Morehead finished his second term, a balance of more than $3 million had accumulated. That took a lot of doing but Mr. Morehead saw to it that it was done. People still speak of him as one of Nebraska's best governors. Back in Washington as a member of the House, he told us he was tired of voting for appropriation bills calling for more money than he could visualize or understand.

Money Bills A Headache

That was at a time when the nation's financial requirements were less than a fourth of what they are today. But John Morehead, staunch Democrat that he was, was also a little bit old-fashioned. He simply did not believe in debt. And when the time came for him to answer to the roll call on the ever-growing money bills needed to carry on the activities of the federal government, Mr. Morehead felt it was time for him to get out. He confided to us that, in his judgment, he could no longer be of service to the people of Nebraska.

★

We haven't any notion other than the reason Mr. Chase sets forth in his announcement that he "does not choose to run" why the Second District representative is returning to his first love — a place on the Douglas County district bench. "At no time did Mrs. Chase or I have in mind for me a permanent career as a member of Congress or semi-permanent residence in Washington," his statement set forth. "Naturally we greatly prefer Omaha where we have maintained our home for years. And we have other reasons, both personal and business, which have contributed largely to the decision." Whatever those reasons, it is not difficult to understand the disillusioning experiences of a freshman member of Congress. He soon learns that seniority is the key to committee assignments, and committee assignments have great bearing upon the opportunities which open themselves to individual members of the House. He discovers that Washington is an expensive community, that living costs are high —and that after a few weeks, much of the glitter of official position fades.

Those Good Ol' Days

Mr. Chase is the third Nebraskan we recall who decided that the life of a congressman was not for him.

A Buss For The Bench

Perhaps our regular courts should have a go at the sort of law-enforcement dished out by Washington County youngsters who took over the reins of local government there for a day and proceeded to administer law and declare punishment as they saw fit.

"County Judge" Sheila Howard of Blair High pronounced stern measure on one "guilty" lad. The sentence: to kiss some girl in the room. Whereupon the young man leaped over the desk and kissed the "judge."

We Are Slipping

It appears that sport is no respecter of political ideologies and in some respect makes the whole world kin.

In free America where personal liberty ranks first and freedom of speech is nowhere more fully practiced than at a passionate sports event, it almost seems indigenous to this country to demonstrate against umpires, referees and defeat in general. But we have no monopoly.

Indeed, Communist Russia outdoes it. There the fans not only rage at the proceedings of the game, but the government adds an interesting feature by raging at the fans. After a near-riot at a soccer game played in a satellite Russian country, where a referee was run out of the lot, the official Communist press inveighed against the disturbers and called them criminal hooligans.

Lest the U.S. be outdone by the Russians, it would be a good idea to create a new government agency, possibly of cabinet stature, to quarrel with the fans who are quarreling with the umpire—no holds barred.

Unrewarded Service

It was shocking to learn that Charles Edward Taylor, 87, designer of the first successful aircraft engine for the Wright brothers, is in a charity ward in a Los Angeles hospital. Such a bleak experience for a man who made exceptional contributions to his nation in the field of flying strikes Americans as a miscarriage of justice.

How Taylor became impoverished was not revealed nor is it important whether he ever had means or not. It is the fact that he was an unsually constructive citizen and but for a happy combination of chance he was sentenced to remain forgotten and in dire want. Taylor is not an isolated instance of worthiness unrequited. He is rather a special reminder that life does not equally reward its servants. His case offers an opportunity for public recognition and correction and such will unquestionably be forthcoming.

Goody Knight Is Frank Candidate

WASHINGTON — California's ebullient Governor "Goody" Knight is one man who is frankly campaigning for the GOP presidential nomination, undaunted by reports that Ike will or Ike won't. Furthermore, he is actually trying to line up a vice-presidential running mate.

Knight recently sent a political emissary to invite Maryland's Gov. Ted McKeldin to be his vice president. Startled, McKeldin expressed doubt as to whether the emissary really spoke for Knight.

Later the Maryland governor got a long-distance call from New York.

"The governor of New York is calling," announced the operator.

Puzzled as to why New York's Gov. Averill Harriman, a Democrat, should be phoning a Republican, McKeldin picked up the phone.

"This is Goody Knight," boomed a vigorous voice. "I'm in New York.

"I want you to know that fellow who came to see you speaks for me," said the governor of California, confirming the invitation to McKeldin to run as vice president on a Knight-McKeldin ticket.

Note — McKeldin indicated that he thought it was too early for him to line up politically for 1956, much as he appreciated the honor.

JOE O'MAHONEY'S TACTICS

Three years ago, Sen. Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Democrat, was defeated for the Senate and, at the age of 70, had to scratch around to make a living. Making a living at that age is not easy, and Joe, always an idealist, always a champion of the little fellow, took some very unpopular and unprofitable cases, such as that of Owen Lattimore, which he won.

Then last year he was re-elected to the Senate in a campaign during which all sorts of big Eastern Republican money was poured into Wyoming to beat him.

Joe is not a vengeful-person. But if he believed in revenge, last week he got it. For he kept the head of the world's biggest corporation waiting while he listened to some of the little General Motors dealers who hitherto hadn't been able to talk to the man they worked for.

Harlow Curtice, head of General Motors, is paid an annual salary of $686,100. The night before testifying before Joe O'Mahoney's committee, Curtice's high-power publicity advisers had sent out a thick, neatly printed statement of what the GM head was going to say. It was sent by messenger to every newspaper office. Some press associations even had part of his statement already written when the hearings opened.

But they had to hold it up. For Curtice wasn't allowed to talk. Joe O'Mahoney, who one year ago was out of a Senate job, held Curtice, who makes $686,100 a year, waiting while he listened to the complaints of small General Motors dealers against the head of General Motors.

Foreign Policy Will Be Campaign Issue

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dulles meets the press every Tuesday morning when he is in Washington. He now knows, and so do they, that foreign policy will be an issue in the campaign next year. The result is that a large part of the current conferences are an attempt to draw him out on the question of how the U.S. position in fact compares to Democratic complaints.

The secretary refuses to be drawn out. Officially he is optimistic and bipartisan. "Others"—he would not name them—will defend him, he assured reporters.

The President is, of course, the political shield and buckler for the State Department which in theory does not mix in domestic politics. Presumably Dulles was thinking of President Eisenhower who next month will step back into his most popular role by way of a White House visit from Anthony Eden, British prime minister.

British sources say that Sir Anthony wanted the meeting because of the failure of the last Geneva conference to achieve results. He is also said to want an understanding with the President before the domestic imperatives of the presidential campaign appear and the partisan oratory gets really heated.

They scoff, with apparent conviction, at the usefulness of Democratic attacks when their champion is back in form. "Do you fellows really think there is mileage in those complaints when we are at peace?" one asked. "Don't you remember how unpopular that Korean War was?"

The Democrats, it was suggested, can only offer the taking of risks and spending more money. These alternatives were firmly branded unpalatable to the voters by the Republicans who can feel that Dulles is taking the only possible course.

They may be right, at least politically. The Korean War was certainly unpopular and it is very difficult to persuade the American people of dangers which are not admitted by the President, especially one felt to be so well versed in foreign affairs.

Unless he should be dramatically reversed by outside events, the President is almost in control of the U.S. political temper on foreign policy. The average voter is personally untouched by the great crises abroad.

The farmer, for example, feels every dollar that his income drops, but he expects that his leaders are taking care of foreign policy and he has particular confidence in Eisenhower.

Since Adlai Stevenson, Gov. Harriman and various senators are genuinely alarmed, they will keep on talking. Their danger is that they will grow shrill and repetitive, especially if they feel the administration is leaning too heavily on optimism.

So far the Republican orators who are only beginning to hit their stride have not brought back the Korean issue. But Attorney General Brownell recently reached into the 1952 kit for a slashing assault on "Communism and corruption" in the government when the Democrats held power. Brownell was speaking to the League of Republican women here.

The Farmers' Almanac Takes A Look At 1956

NEW YORK — Things I never knew about 1956 (until I read Farmer's Almanac, a slim pulp printed by Ray Geiger of Lewiston, Me., which has the additional distinction of being one of the very few "original" farmers' almanacs or almanac (s)s printed in the Yewnited S. of Amer

Claiming 138 years, which means that the Yewnited S. of Amer. was barely 42 years old when it started, the Lewiston, Me., almanac allows as follows:

Kill plant pests on the 1, 2, 3, 14, 15, 27, 28, 29, 30 of Jan. Set eggs between 1-5 and 20-31 of Jan. Watch out for four eclipses, two of the sun, two of the moon. It might take some traveling to watch out for them, Si.

The May 24 partial eclipse of the moon will be visible in such handy spots as the Aleutians, almost anywhere on a raft in the Pacific, and throughout Red China. The June 8 total eclipse of the sun will be total only in the South Pacific. Asia gets the break on the total eclipse of the moon of November 18, and the best spot to see the partial eclipse of the sun next December 2 is northwestern Africa. In other words, times will be tough for all owners of smoked glass in the Y.S. of A.

We have it directly from Lewiston, Me., realm of the occult, that during 1956 if you're Aries, your lucky day is Thursday, your unlucky day is Monday, and you'll be most successful in June or July. If you're Taurus, you can't do wrong on a Monday but you'll louse it up on Sunday.

And so on through the year: Gemini, Friday luck; Sunday N.G., best months April and August. Cancer, Wednesday vs. Saturday, and February and September. Leo, Sunday vs. Tuesday, and January and October. Virgo, Monday vs. Wednesday, and February and November. Libra, Monday vs. Thursday, and August and December. Scorpio, Tuesday vs. Monday, and January and July. Sagittarius, Sunday vs. Friday, and February and June. Capricornius, Wednesday vs. Saturday, and March and November. Aquarius, Thursday vs. Wednesday, and April and August. And Pisces, Wednesday vs. Friday, and May and November.

Uranus, Neptune and Pluto will show very little movement during 1956, one learns with a twinge. Christmas, 1956, will be windy and wet. And on a Tuesday. What bounced it two days ahead of 1955's Christmas is February 29, 1956, when all sorts of leap year things happen like Jupiter rising at 12:37 a.m., the sun at 6:41 (northern states) and at 5:55 (southern states) and windy and wet.

A quick skim through Geiger's (counter) almanac shows a lot of windy and wet in this 180th year of the independence of the Y.S. of A. It might be a good year to stay in bed.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

It May Be A Turkey, Not Santa, On The Roof

By MONA B. PARKER

The Curtis Enterprise had a brief but descriptive weather story . . .

"It's Decem--brrr!"

Somehow, commented Mrs. Roy Ahrndt in the Scribner Rustler, we never seem to be quite ready for winter when it gets here, Cold weather notes on the Ahrndt farm . . ."porch boards squeaking as you walk on them . . . wet mittens sticking to every metal door knob or latch . . . the smell of rendering lard . . ."

The Ahrndts defrosted the deep-freeze for the season and "set things outside and in this sub-zero weather they didn't thaw a bit."

☆ ☆ ☆

The five-year-old in the George Miller family of Gretna had a big round, full day on Thanksgiving—too much, in fact — and "wound up her day in such exhaustion that she was forced to request that she be allowed to go to bed . . .The shame of it all, the humiliation, and in front of grandparents and an uncle, to boot."

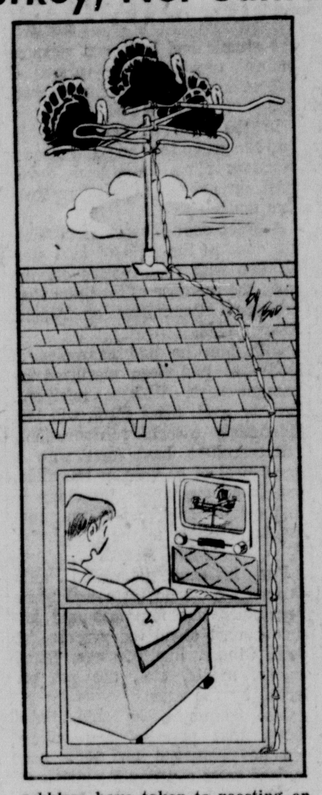

☆ ☆ ☆

The Morris Paynes hit a snag in the midst of their preparation for turkey day. An oven unit burned out with the dinner only halfway along, so the Hooperites hied themselves and their appetites away to a Fremont restaurant . . .

"We didn't exactly have what we would have had at home as to quantity consumed, but we did have a good dinner, and no dishes to do. Personally, we'd rather eat at home."

☆ ☆ ☆

A farmer living south of Polk has turkeys for sale — not an unusual fact in itself, considering the holiday season and market demands — but the reason he is disposing of them is something else again. Seems the ungainly gobblers have taken to roosting on his television antenna and have bent it out of shape, to say nothing of what such birdbrain antics do to the picture on the screen inside . . .

☆ ☆ ☆

The Blair Enterprise is of the opinion that even hunting — once the sport of the rugged individualist — is getting soft. It was discussing the story of the two Schuyler nimrods who have constructed a duck blind on an island in the Platte, but who, instead of rowing across or making the trip by outboard, have rigged up an electric car which travels on a cable across the stream. The contraption uses car wheels minus tires which run on steel cables stretched from trees on either bank, and is large enough to carry four men and two dogs.

☆ ☆ ☆

Several Comstock boys were hard at work building a duck blind on the Loup, and when asked why they were doing so this late in the season, promptly informed the curious that they were looking to the future and that the structure was for next year's use.

"Hope the river doesn't change and spoil their plans," sympathized the News.

☆ ☆ ☆

The Lyons Mirror-Sun told a tale of squirrel-hunting. Hunter Bud Swanson proved a trick he had heard of for years about the frisky little creatures. When he got one holed up inside a hollow tree, he took a stick of wood and thumped the base of the tree as if he were chopping it down.

"Out popped the squirrel as perky as ever and ran for his home tree."

It was a rather pathetic story that the Orleans Chronicle told about a pheasant's nest found by workmen in the field and taken home. The young pheasants hatched out along with baby chicks under a mother hen and grew up with the domestic flock. When they were old enough, they flew off but returned from time to time "for all the world like the married children in a family coming home."

Open season on pheasants found the tame birds easy prey to hunters and one by one they disappeared.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Thai Premier Holds Firm Hand

BANGKOK—The excitable press of this engaging capital has lately been black with headlines foreshadowing a new shift of power in the small clique that governs Thailand.

Twice since the end of the war, bloody and violent coups have taken place and the air seemed charged again with the tension that precedes a struggle for power in the inner circle made up of the military and the politicians who dominate.

But if shrewd little Prime Minister Pibul Songgram has his way —and he has shown a remarkable capacity for getting out of tight corners, including a miraculous escape after he was seized by the navy clique and held on a gunboat which was bombed by the air force — there will be no coup.

Those expert in forecasting the political weather here believe that Pibul Songgram is consolidating his own political powers and they are willing to bet that when the process is over, his grip will be tighter than before. He has been busily undermining his chief rival, Gen. Phao Srijanond, head of the police force that is organized on military lines and in many respects rivals the army.

A great deal of time will be required if the narrow base of government is to be broadened and a fair approximation of the democratic process by Far Eastern standards created. In that one word, "time," is summed up the dilemma of the West. Western aid and co-operation can help along the process of evolution.

China and Russia hold out the magic of a revolutionary transformation which will overnight convert feudal Asian societies into modern "democratic people's republics." The falsity of this magic has long since been demonstrated to the West, but it still holds a glittering promise for the poverty-ridden masses of the East.

The urgency is less great here than it is elsewhere in Asia. With roughly 20,000,000 people in a rich and fertile country, population pressure is nonexistent. The population time-bomb is not ticking for Thailand as it is in Japan, India and China.

Nor is there a problem of land reform. A very large percentage of Thais have their own holdings and food is plentiful.

Thailand was never occupied by the West and so no heritage of colonial hatred troubles present-day relationships. A series of clever kings — conspicuously the hero of the American musical, "The King and I," which incidentally affronts the royal family—played off one European power against another and thereby escaped the fate of Burma, India and China.

The sight of a white man does not cause an instinctive reaction of resentment. The smiles of the Thai people are not an ideological front but warm and human response.

Despite all these extenuating circumstances, the pressure for change, and swift change, is felt. To the north the massive power of Communist China is like a great dark cloud on the horizon, threatening to sweep everything before it.

Inside the country is the problem ubiquitous in Asia — 3,000,000 Chinese residents who carry on much of the trade and whose allegiance wavers between the Communists and Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists. If Chiang and the Nationalists were to be further compromised, the whole weight of this force in every Asian country would be likely to swing to the Reds. Yet at the same time Chiang's stubborness, as in the issue of United Nations membership, alienates Asians who hope for peaceful evolution.

Horse racing and boxing of their own strong-arm variety are sports on which the pleasure-loving Thais bet heavily. There is no pari-mutuel for the political sweepstakes. The odds would seem to be somewhat in favor of peaceful evolution as against revolution.

But that presupposes, it must be quickly added, that there is no war. And equally important, it assumes that the tempo of evolution will be quickened.

Pibul Songgram talks about democratization and how he means to bring democracy to Thailand. There are even hints that corruption and the rackets in opium and prostitution are to be ended. The cynical smile at these protestations of virtue and say they will wait and see.

But it cannot be said too often that the waiting time is running out.

National Guardian Officials Invoke 5th Amendment

NEW YORK (INS) — John T. McManus, general manager, and James Aronson, executive editor, of the weekly National Guardian Wednesday invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to discuss their political affiliations or those of any of their colleagues.

They were among a group of 14 witnesses who appeared at executive sessionsof the Senate internal Security subcommittee which has been investigating alleged Communist infiltration of the press, radio, and TV.

After emerging from the hearing room, McManus and Aronson told reporters they had declined to speculate for the committee regarding the politics of any of their colleagues.

In response to a question from a newsman, McManus said he invoked the Fifth Amendment when he was asked if he had ever been a member of the Communist Party.

Worked for Times

McManus was president of the New York Newspaper Guild from 1943 to 1946. He was formerly employed on the New York Times, the defunct daily, PM, and Time Magazine.

Aronson said he invoked the Fifth Amendment on his own personal beliefs "and also with reference to other people who had been mentioned". Asked if by that he meant newspaper people, he replied:

"You can draw your own assumptions from the nature of the inquiry."

Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr., (D-Mo), and Sen. William E. Jenner (R.-Ind), were present at Wednesday's session during which 14 witnesses were questioned. Twelve witnesses were heard Tuesday and nine on Monday, making a total of 35 for the three days. The chairman of the committee, Sen. James O Eastland (D-Miss), is ill at his home in the South.

Next Hearings

In announcing adjournment, Sen. Hennings said the committee had heard all the witnesses they had expected to call in New York. He could not say whether the next hearings would be public or not, or whether they would be held in New York or Washington.

The committee adhered to its policy of not making public the names of witnesses or discussing any of the testimony given in private.

McManus told reporters that most of the questions asked of him had to do with the administration of the guild during his leadership.

"Other questions," he went on, "related to my employment on the New York Times. They also asked for a summary of my other employment through 1948."

Identify People

McManus said the aim of the committee's questions "seemed designed to get me to identify people in the administation of the guild as members of the Communist party."

"I explained that during my administration," McManus continued, "our aim was to have a unified guild and that I myself made no inquiries to anyone as to their politics.

"Rather I operated on as broad and unified scale as possible to maintain the gains that were won during that period which raised the minimum wage from in the neighborhood of $60 a week to $120 a week, with comparable gains all through the structure of the guild.

"I therefore refused to discuss or speculate on the politics of any of my colleagues in the guild administration."

Philip Stierberger Services Friday

Funeral services for Philip D. Stierberger, 49, of 115 No. 31st, who died Tuesday, will be held at 3:30 p.m. Friday at Wadlows, the Rev. C. F. Perrin officiating.

Graveside services will be conducted by American Legion Post 3 at Lincoln Memorial Park.

Mr. Stierberger was a salesman for the Peterson Food Brokers of Omaha.

Surviving are his wife, Eleanore; two sons, Robert with the armed forces and James Todd of Lincoln, daughters, Mrs. Betty Lou Domenick of Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Barbara Myhoff of Lincoln; his mother, Mrs. Linnie Stierberger of Columbus, O.; sisters, Miss Margaret Stierberger, Mrs. Dorothy Saus and Mrs. Naomi Davis, all of Columbus, and five grandchildren.

Will Be Filled

INDIANAPOLIS (INS)—Admiral Ben Moreel, USN, retired, said that unless American business taxes moral leadership, the vacuum will be filled by "those who would take us down the road to complete statism and inevitable moral principles."

Admiral Moreel, who is board chairman of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., spoke at the 1955 annual meeting of the Indiana state Chamber of Commerce.

State Home At Beatrice Inspected By Committee

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

A Legislative Council committee, headed by Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City, Wednesday made a personal inspection of the Beatrice State Home in connection with its study of operations of state institutions under the Board of Control.

A number of senators have advocated a change in the statutes to prevent a direct commitment by county boards and provide for careful study by a medical committee before sending any children to the home.

Estimates of the number of children-patients who could become self supporting if given the proper guidance ran as high as 25 per cent. The institution has had the largest growth of bed space of any state institution.

Louis Jeppesen of Hubbard, chairman of the advisory committee for the home, says the committee is willing so spend all of the time necessary to study conditions and make recommendations not only to the Board of Control but to the Legislature as well.

Jeppesen asserted that on reaching 14 years of age, each child committed should be able — with the assistance of the superintendent — to make application for a guardian. He said he will suggest such a law to the Legislature.

Silence Unbroken

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (INS) — President Eisenhower Wednesday continued his silence on the question of whether he will run for re-election. The White House declined comment on plans by Oregon Republicans to enter Mr. Eisenhower's name in their state primary.

Cantor Resting

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Eddie Cantor was reported to be resting easily Wednesday after undergoing kidney surgery at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

Cantor was forced to cancel a TV appearance on the Milton Berle show when he was stricken with a kidney infection last Nov. 25.

He was treated at home and admitted to the hospital Monday. The operation was performed Tuesday.

Retiring worthy matron and patron are Frances Kranz and Clyde Miller.

Lancaster Files Notice Of Gas Tax Suit Appeal

Lancaster County filed Wednesday its notice of intent to appeal from the District Court ruling in the state gas tax distribution suit.

Two other counties—Douglas and Sarpy—already have filed notice with the Lancaster District Court.

District Judge Harry Spencer ruled in the case that although former State Treasurer Frank Heintze had not distributed the gas tax funds between 1950 and October, 1954, in accordance with law, the counties could not recover any claimed "loss."

The appealing counties will test in the Supreme Court the upheld theory that Heintze acted in 'quasi-judicial" capacity in allocating the funds and is thus immune from personal liability.

Distribution of the nearly $3 million in gas tax funds deposited wtih the District Court will probably be made after Dec. 17 for October, November, and December, 1954, under the court-determined formula.

Under the formula, 23 counties received less than their proper share prior to October, 1954. Lancaster County "lost" $112,601, Douglas County, $289,834, and Sarpy, $88,214.

Judge Spencer essentially held the counties in accepting the allocations for the period in question, had in effect approved of them.

Suits filed by Douglas and Lancaster Counties against Heintze and his bonding companies for recovery of claimed losses had been stayed by Judge Spencer pending a determination in the declaratory judgment action brought by Heintze against the 93 counties.

Fairmont Declares Quarterly Dividend

OMAHA (AP)—Fairmont Food Co., directors declared a quarterly dividend of one dollar per share on its 4 per cent preferred stock and 20 cents per share on common stock.

Stassen, Weeks Optimistic About Year's Work

NEW YORK (INS) — Two high government officials summed up this year's achievements of the Eisenhower administration Wednesday on a strong note of optimism and satisfaction.

They also struck back at political critics of the President's policies.

Presidental Assistant Harold E. Stassen said that the United States is "more powerful today than in any other peacetime year."

All-Time High

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks announced that 1955 "will produce an all-time high" in American business activity.

Both men addressed the opening session of the three-day annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Some 3,000 leaders of industry, education and labor applauded as the cabinet officials listed President Eisenhower's domestic and foreign achievements.

Reporting on the reecnt cabinet and National Security Council meetings at Camp David, Md., Stassen said:

Back At Helm

"The President is back at the helm—asking those probing and penetrating questions."

Secretary Weeks ascribed the nation's unprecedented prosperity to decisions of the Eisenhower administration to "withdraw the heavy hand of government" and "substitute the friendly hand of encouragement."

He said his department would issue a study Thursday showing that business capital expenditures for 1956 would go "twelve percent over the record year now closing."

Weeks said that today's "great overriding issue is between socialism and capitalism."

Dixon-Yates

He added: "the socialists want a federal power monoply. That's what's back of the Dixon-Yates power controversy..."

Stassen defended the "top four" of the Eisenhower cabinet: Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Attorney General Herbert Brownell.

He said they had been subjected to the "pounding of public attack," but predicted they would stand "as one of the most significant top fours of the U. S. cabinet" since the founding of the republic.

Earlier, NAM delegates heard a verbal clash between Republican Senator Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona and Democratic Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota on dustry.

Goldwater opposed Humphrey's contention that government "can act...through positive action or by negative restraining influence."

Both senators agreed, however, on the necessity for overhauling America's "jumbled up and confused" system of tax laws.

Part Of Republic

BONN (INS)—The West German foreign policy committee of the Bundestag, or lower Parliament, resolved that the Saar should form part of the Federal Republic as soon as practicable.

Committee members disclosed there was general agreement that the forthcoming parliamentary election in the border territory between France and Germany would provide pro-German parties with the three-fourths majority "required for changing the Constitution" to permit the Saarland to join West Germany.

A Main Aim

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's provisional government said one of its main aims is negotiation of a concordat with the Roman Catholic Church to govern church-state relations. This was part of a govment program set forth in a statement issued by Interior Minister Eduardo Busso. It also said the government will guarantee freedom of all religions.

Injured Wife Of Auto Wreck Victim Dies

Mrs. Jessie Samuelson, 63, of 302 B, who had been in critical condition since an automobile accident which took the life of her husband, died Wednesday.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Evangelical United Brethern Church at Milford, the Rev. W. C. Iliff officiating.

Burial will be at Blue Mount Cemetery at Milford.

Mrs. Sameulson had been at St. Elizabeth's Hospital since the one car accident on Highway 6 northeast of Milford Friday.

The car in which Mrs. Samuelson and her husband, Richard, 67, were driving skidded on an icy pavement and plunged over a concrete culvert.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuelson moved to Lincoln about a month ago.

Mrs. Samuelson is survived by a daughter, Lois of Omaha; a son, Richard of Columbus; three sisters, Mrs. Clara Hansen of Lincoln, Mrs. Ella Mundhenke of California and Mrs. Sarah Beker of Hastings; and a brother, Paul Moorberg of Sheridan, Wyo.

Mrs. Sameulson's death was the 301st for Nebraska this year, with 304 at this time last year.

HOLIDAY TRAVEL CLIMBING

Bookings Get Tougher To Find

Reservations for travel during the Christmas season are filling up fast, according to airline and railroad officials.

The Union Pacific Railroad has reported an increase of nearly 20 per cent over other years. It is adding extra cars to transcontinental trains so far as the make-up of trains will allow. While persons are likely to have some difficulty in getting space the railroads expects to meet the demand.

The Burlington Railroad expects the usual increase in holiday business, but not materially larger than last year. Like the Union Pacific, the Burlington is finding a little difficulty in giving travelers the exact date and train they want, but will arrange to meet the demands.

Heaviest Days

The manager of the Lincoln Union Bus Depot reported that the heaviest load on buses comes in the afternoons and after work hours. He said that the heaviest days are the 19th of December to the Christmas and just before New Year's Eve.

The Lincoln Tour and Travel Agency said that this is one of the biggest Christmas seasons for travel so far. Many persons are taking trips to Mexico, Hawaii and the Bowl games. They reported few trips to Europe as this is an off-season for European travel.

United Air Lines and Braniff International Airways reported a large increase in bookings for two weeks to 10 days before Christmas. They reported one of the largest years for airline travel in Lincoln.

Special flights to the Rose Bowl game are planned by United Air Lines from Denver and Chicago. They will fly Michigan State to the Rose Bowl. United found Thanksgiving holiday travel up five per cent in passengers carried and up seven per cent in passenger miles flown for an all-time record November.

The air lines reported that there would still be space available be cause of special sections being added.

County Dimes March Lists Committees

Harold J. Osborn, campaign chairman of the 1956 March of Dimes for the Lancaster County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, has announced his 1956 campaign committee.

Chairmen and their sub-committees are: advance gifts, George P. Abel; campaign secretary, Mrs. John A. Brown; clubs and organizations, Dr. Ben James II; coin collections, Capt. George Gohde; county schools, Glenn Turner.

Mothers' March, Mrs. Helen Silverman and Mrs. Margaret Seacrest; public schools, R. L. Fredstrom; publicity, Charles White, Les Rau and Dick Chapin; rural communities, Mrs. Ernie Benes and Frances Runty; special events, Col. Lee Liggett and Fred Stiner; treasurer, Alvin C. Glandt.

The 1956 March of Dimes will be held during January, ending with the Mothers' March January 26.

Godfrey Firings Disputed

By Manager Of La Rosa

NEW YORK (INS)—Singer Julius La Rosa's personal manager accused TV-radio star Arthur Godfrey Wednesday of "trying to rewrite the actual facts of history."

Manager Frank Barone took exception to the account of the La Rosa firing written by Godfrey in his biography now appearing in the Saturday Evening Post.

After scanning the latest installment of the Godfrey series, Barone told TV-radio Editor Jack O'Brian of the New York Journal-American:

"It's simple, in my mind, what Godfrey is trying to do. He simply is trying to rewrite the actual facts of history as he would have preferred them to happen, not as they actually occurred."

'Deviations'

Barone maintained that the Godfrey biography contained "all sorts of deviations from fact." He said:

"Godfrey writes that Julius would talk to no one on the show except through his manager or agent. It's simply not so. We wrote a letter to CBS, stating simply that Julie had signed a contract with the General Artists Corp. for future bookings.

"The letter was clear that we wanted one agent to handle Julius' offers and bookings. He was getting successful, and the offers were growing . . . I don't think any artist can claim that the honorable bargaining over salary is unethical, immoral or illegal."

Stoutly defending dismissals of his TV "friends," including La Rosa, Godfrey declared in the magazine series that he "should have fired the whole outfit."

Galaxy Of Stars

He said that when he returned to New York in October, 1953, following a hip operation and convalescence, he found that his cast had become "a galaxy of stars."

As for the young singer, Godfrey wrote:

"Julius La Rosa had been making personal appearances at $2,000 and $3,000 a throw. His job with me had become a showcase, paying a measly $1,000 or $1,200 a week, and the training program I had instituted was a bore."

Godfrey, who dismissed La Rosa during a dramatic telecast, added:

"Some of the others in my pool of talent had also acquired delusions of grandeur, and a feeling that "the boss is standing in our way."

Barone said La Rosa had a $100-000-a-year guarantee from General Artists at the time of the Godfrey dismissal.

Upcoming Merger Of Packinghouse Unions Revealed

NEW YORK (AP)—Leaders of the former AFL Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen and the former CIO United Packinghouse Workers of America Wednesday announced agreement on "a basis of an early merger."

It was the first merger plan of unions to develop within the newly merged AFL-CIO.

A stated object of the AFL-CIO is to combine unions with like jurisdictions.

Uniting the 300,000 - member former AFL union with the 175,000-member former CIO union would create a single labor organization of nearly a half million members in the meat processing and retail butchering industry.

Morocco's First Representative Government Inaugurated

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—Morocco's first representative government was inaugurated Wednesday, pledged to protect the sovereignty and territorial integrity of the country and end its domination as a French protectorate.

Premier Mohammed Bekkai presented to Sultan Mohammed ben Youssef 17 ministers selected after two weeks of negotiation with leaders of the once-outlawed Istiqlal (independence) party and the more moderate Democratic Independence Party.

The Istiqlal has eight ministers in the new government, the PDI has five, and all, including the Premier, are independents. Yet to be named is a minister representing the Jewish Community of Morocco.

Bekkai led each minister before the Sultan in the great throne room of his yellow-walled palace to be sworn in. All are young men, most in their 30s. At 48, Bekkai is the eldest.

Most also have records as active nationalists and some have been jailed by the French. But they are split over how far Morocco should go in severing ties with France.

Bekkai pledged his government to work night and day to carry out the Sultan's program to abrogate the 1912 treaty of Fez which made Morocco a French protectorate.

Want New Agreement

In his first words to the ministers, Ben Youssef repeated his earlier declarations that a new agreement must be made with France to seal "the independence of Morocco and interdependence between the two countries."

To the Istiqlal, "interdependence" is a doubtful arrangement. The party demands complete independence from France and announced even while accepting the greater number of Cabinet posts that it would retain its freedom of action.

At the same time, the PDI protested to the Sultan that it was given insufficient representation in the government and said it, too, would keep its freedom of action.

Sultan Chairman

Bekkai said the Cabinet's first session would be under the chairmanship of the Sultan, clearly a move designed to weld the ministers together

In selecting his government, Bekkai ignored the "traditionalists" who surrounded the Sultan before he was exiled by the French 2½ years ago. They dominated his temporary successor, Mohammed ben Moulay Arafa, and willingly cooperated with France to suppress nationalism.

Bekkai, is a reserve lieutenant colonel in the Spahis who lost a leg fighting for France in World War II. He long has been a confidant of the Sultan and served as Ben Youssef's representative in France during the monarch's exile in Madagascar.

Martin Gates Heads Washington Lodge

Martin Gates has been elected worshipful master of George Washington Lodge, AF & AM.

Other new officers are Jerome Lyon, senior warden; Boyd Vincent, junior warden; Everett Packett, re-elected treasurer, and Otis Cave Sr., re-elected secretary.

Retiring master is Ira Lehr, who was elected to the Board of Trustees.

Meeting Set

A committee studying fish and game laws for the Legislative Council will hold a public hearing at North Platte on Dec. 16. Sen. George Syas, Omaha, is chairman.

Plans Investigated For New Schools

FAIRBURY, Neb. (AP)—The Fairbury school board has employed architects to draw preliminary plans for two new school buildings here.

Two ward buildings, one already torn down and another still in use, are to be replaced.

A citizens committee of about 50 persons has been appointed to work on the school project.

Secret Chat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon spent 45 minutes with Secretary of State Dulles, then ducked out the back way to avoid reporters.

Nixon arranged the meeting with Dulles Wednesday morning. Newsmen waiting in Dulles' anteroom at the State Department sent word they would like to see him on his way out.

But Nixon took Dulles' private elevator to the basement. His waiting limousine took him out of the State Department.

Later, at his office, Nixon sent out word he had no comment on his visit with Dulles.

Cops Say Boy Admits Brutal Texas Slaying

GONZALES, Tex. (AP)—Officers said Wednesday a 15-year-old boy confessed to the brutal killing of Herbert Johnson, 58, National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People leader of Schulenburg, Tex.—either for the $17 Johnson carried or because of a two-year-old family quarrel. They said the youth was unable to clearly state his motive.

The boy, L. C. Henry, is a grandson of Willie Tennon, an uncle of Johnson.

Sheriff L. O. McGinty said the only motive the boy gave was that his grandfather and Johnson had an argument about two years ago.

Trouble

County Judge John Rombert said earlier Johnson had trouble with some of his kinsmen over management of the estate of his late father. He said Johnson had accused others of selling property to the state without his permission and selling cattle from the estate.

The boy was picked up for routine questioning, the sheriff said, and after his stories grew more confused, he finally confessed. The confession was made to McGinty and County Atty. E. W. Patteson.

McGinty said the boy showed officers where the bloody trousers and a missing wallet were hidden. McGinty quoted the boy as saying he took about $17 from the body.

Woman's Body Found In Cement, Shows Fractures

CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — A coroner's jury was told Wednesday that Mrs. Barbara Alexander, 27, whose body was dug out of a concrete tomb, suffered several skull fractures which could have caused her death.

Mrs. Alexander's body was uncovered Tuesday when police chipped through 4½ inches of concrete floor and six inches of ground in the basement of her home here. A pet dog helped officers locate the body.

Dr. Donald L. Becker, pathologist, said his examination showed two large fractures were on the right temple and base of the woman's skull.

Also testifying at Wednesday's inquest was Mrs. Rose Alexander, first and present wife of Barbara's husband, James, 48. She said Barbara accidentally tripped at her home July 18, 1953, and caused a six-foot pile of bricks and concrete blocks to fall on her

Rose told the coroner's jury she buried the woman's body in the basement two days later and that Alexander had covered up the grave a month later when he laid the concrete for the basement floor.

In an earlier statement to officers, Rose said Barbara's death was accidental. No charges have been filed.

STANTON DELAPLANE

POSTCARD

I checked out of the Calverley Hotel, where Queen Victoria and Albert stayed in Tunbridge Wells, and drove north to London. I drove right over to Rule's in Maiden Lane.

"The jugged hare?" I asked the waiter.

"Ah, sir it's not on the menu, sir."

"The mating season?" I said knowingly.

"The myting season, sir," said the waiter.

☆ ☆ ☆

I have an odd relationship with Rule's. The restaurant, just off the Strand, is about 500 years old. It is full of wonderful prints and cast-iron cupids about to loose cast-iron arrows. The waiters are elderly and filled with tradition. The wine list is filled with vintage authority.

A specialty at Rule's is the jugged hare. Unfortunately, the hares are not co-operative. There seems to be some rule at Rule's against a hare when he is baying at the moon.

Though I have been in Rule's many times, I have only been able to get hare twice. Most of the time the hare has his mind on love instead of on business. To wit, the jug.

"I had the hare just a month ago," I said. "Do you mean to say the hares have gone back to playing the ukelele already?"

"It's ard to say about 'ares," said the waiter. "Now the best time for jugged 'are is in the early fall. The first cold snap. It quiets them down, you might s'y. Might I suggest the Dover sole?"

Rule's is always sawing off Dover sole on me. The Dover sole I gather, is a clod. No romance.

We settled for lamb chops and the wine steward dusted off a half bottle of Rhine wine.

I asked if the mamager was in. I had his name in my notebook, though I seem to have lost it today. The waiter said 'e was sorry, sir, but the director seemed to have stepped out. Just stepped out.

The director is as elusive as the jugged 'are. He wrote me a letter. He said would I please, please call on him next time I was in London.

The director, sir? Why 'e's sitting at the bar.'

"Will you give him my card?"

The waiter disappeared behind a cast-iron cupid and held a long conference. He came back to say the director was no longer at the bar.

" 'e stepped out for a bit, sir. Probably for a bit of fresh air."

"Will you let him know I'm here? He sent me a letter asking me to see him."

"Yes, sir. May I ask the subject of your inquiry?"

"You may. I write for American newspapers. Once I wrote about Rule's. The director sent me a letter. He asked me to call."

"Ah, yes, sir. You wish to write about Rule's."

"I do not wish to write about Rule's. I may write about Rule's and I may write about jugged 'are. I really don't care to write. I just wanted to be a good sport and answer the man's letter."

"Yes, sir. You wish to answer the letter. You wish paper and pencil, sir?"

☆ ☆ ☆

I said that was not the idea. Just tell the director I was around. If anything happened it would be all right. How about the Stilton cheese?

"Sorry, sir. The Stilton is gone."

He went out for another conference. He came back to say there was cheddar, sir, with port wine. Also —

Big Spruce Takes Over Washington

Ike's Yule Tree Reaches Capital

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 65-foot Black Hills spruce, which began its life in South Dakota the same year Dwight D. Eisenhower was born in Texas, arrived Wednesday to take over as the White House Christmas tree.

Foresters figure the tree began as a seedling in 1890, and during its 65 years grew until it weighed 3½ tons and had a spread of 29 feet.

During the same period, of course, Eisenhower has done all right, too.

Big Reception

Few congressmen have gotten as big a reception as the tree received. Reporters, photographers, television people and Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) were at the freight yards as a welcoming committee.

Case kept shinnying up the side of the open gondola car, for the benefit of photographers and hence was able to give a close up, official opinion of the tree.

"It's tremendous," Case said.

The tree will stand in the park south of the White House, and will be a main attraction at the "Pageant of Peace." On Dec. 18 President Eisenhower, from his Gettysburg, Pa., farm, will push the button that lights the tree and starts the 16-day pageant in which 52 nations will take part.

Pretty Involved

The White House has had a big community tree since President Coolidge began the custom in 1922. By now, the whole thing has become pretty involved.

George Kelly, the assistant state forester of South Dakota, was here to see that the tree arrived in good shape. He said he has had a busy year, ever since a conservation group, the Keep South Dakota Green Assn., decided to give the President a tree.

"It seems we spent most of the year hunting for it," Kelly said. "We flew all over the area trying to find one that had a perfect symetrical shape.

No Baldies, Please

"When spruces grow in clumps, there's always a bald spot somewhere. We finally found this one in September, growing all by itself, about 30 miles southwest of Deadwood."

Kelly looked at the tree with satisfaction.

"It was the most beautiful tree we could find," he said.

Richard McArdle, chief of the U. S. Forest Service, was around to look at the spruce, and fell to talking about how the life span of a single tree shows the importance of a wise conservation program.

Long Time Growing

Someone in his office, McArdle said, had jotted down what had happened in this tree's lifetime, and he happened to have the notes handy.

When the tree, and Eisenhower, were born, Benjamin Harrison was in the White House, South Dakota had been a state but for a year and this country had only 62,947,714 persons, or around 100 million fewer than it has now. The Black Hills National Forest, where the tree was found, wasn't established until it was seven years old.

"It takes a long time," McArdle said, "to grow a good tree."

Court Dismisses Suit Against FHA

The $1,000 damage suit of Harry Mason, Sherman County farmer, against the Farmers Home Administration and its Sherman County committee, has been dismissed by U.S. District Judge John W. Delehant.

The suit concerned a $4,000 loan requested by Mason of the FHA, which was found "eligible" by the committee. Relying on the prospects, Mason went to considerable expense before the loan was denied, his suit claimed.

The court sustained a defense motion for dismissal of the suit on jurisdictional grounds and with the consent of the plaintiff's attorney.

The defense motion contended the defendants acted within the scope of the FHA and that the U.S. had not consented to be sued in this type of case.

State Veterinarians Choose Simic As President

Dr. W. J. Simic of Beatrice was elected Wednesday as the new president of the Nebraska State Veterinary Medical Association.

The 1955-56 officers were elected by the Association during its 59th annual meeting in Lincoln. Some 200 members are attending.

Dr. E. Von Tour of Alliance is the new vice-president and the outgoing president, Dr. N. W. Kruse of Genoa, becomes chairman of the board of directors.

New directors, elected for two-year terms, are Dr. J. H. Magilton of David City and Dr. Dale Karre of Ord. Other directors are Dr. C. B. Schwab of Fairbury and Dr. H. E. Hedlund of Wahoo.

Re-elected were Dr. W. T. Spencer of Lincoln as secretary-treasurer and Dr. Paul Matthews of Omaha, as resident state secretary to the American Veterinary Medical Association.

Wednesday sessions included lectures by Dr. D. F. Walker of Broken Bow, Dr. Dorr Scott of Knoxville, Ia., and Dr. Van Tour.

Concluding the day was the annual banquet and dance.

The convention adjourns Thursday noon after presentation of papers by Dr. H. J. Hill and Dr. Rue Jensen, both of the Colorado A&M faculty, and by Dr. Lee Phillips of Denver, Colo.

Suspects Nabbed

EL PASO, Tex. (INS)—The El Paso office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation announced the arrest and detention at Albuquerque, N. M., of two Phoenix, Ariz., men in connection with the robberies of branch banks at the Fort Bliss military reservation and Sandia weapons base.

The men are Robert Clyde Sanders, 25, and Joseph Starr Gullahorn, 35. They were charged with taking $22,000 from the Fort Bliss bank Sept. 12, last, and 47,664 from the Sandia bank about a month later.

Four Are Killed As Gale Winds Hit West Coast

PORTLAND, Ore (INS) — Four people met death and a huge lumber barge was blown ashore as a gale of almost hurricane force ripped the Oregon, Washington and northern California coast.

The gale toppled a huge fir tree on 50-year-old Ray Orville Bradfield, Colton, Ore., mill owner. He was crushed in the cab of his truck on the Colton-Estacada Highway.

Albert W. Blankenship, 52, of Salem, Ore., was fatally injured when struck down by a car during a heavy rainstorm.

Farther north, two elderly Tacoma fishermen were drowned in the Tacoma Narrows when their outboard motorboat capsized in high winds. They were Alf Erickson and Barney Sather, both 73.

Winds reached a peak of 83 miles an hour at Seattle and varied in strength to the northern California coast where a huge lumber barge owned by Sause Brothers of Portland and towed by the tug Klahyam, was blown ashore in Crescent City Harbor.

Public Assistance Requested In Cabbie Slaying Case

OMAHA (AP)—With only meager leads to work on in solving the slaying of Erick William Burkwist, authorities appealed to the public for assistance Wednesday.

Sheriff Patrick E. Corrigan said officers are looking for the 32-caliber-automatic pistol with which Burkwist was shot apparetly early Monday, his worn brown billfold and his money changer.

Also missing is a cheap pocket watch believed to bear the brand name "Colby."

"Any or all of the articles may be in West Omaha roadside ditches or fields, Corrigan said.

Meanwhile, reward money offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer of the 62-year-old cab driver, rose to $1,250. S. F. Browne, president of the Safeway Cab Co., added $250 to the $1,000 previously offered.

Prolific Cow On Jansen Farm

Ernest Endorf, Jansen, Neb., farmer, would like to have a whole herd of cows like the mother of the triplet calves shown above. Here the young triplets are being coaxed to eat by four-year-old Lynette Endorf. The mother of the calves is an eight-year-old Holstein grade cow who previously has given birth to four sets of twins and two singles. Endorf operates a small dairy farm east of Jansen. Speculation On Rep. Chase Post Begins

OMAHA (AP)—The name of Omaha's mayor, John Rosenblatt popped up in early speculation about a candidate for Congress succeeding Rep. Jackson B. Chase of Omaha.

The Omaha World-Herald said it had learned from well informed sources that persons in both the Republican and Democratic parties were urging Rosenblatt to make a try for the job which Chase said he will give up at the end of his term.

Registered Democrat

Rosenblatt is a registered Democrat, but he has not been active in the party since he became a member of the City Council eight years ago. Omaha's mayor and council are selected on a non-partisan basis.

The mayor would neither confirm not deny that he was considering making the race.

He said several "difficult, major problems in city government" are taking his attention at present.

Other Possibilities

Other mentioned as possible Republican candidates are U. S. District Attorney Donald Ross, Owen Cotton, Harold Le Mar, former Congressman Howard Buffet and Former Mayor Glenn Cunningham.

Cunningham said "it would take an awful lot of thought. I'm pretty happy where I am as savings bond director."

County Democratic Chariman Henry Winter said James F. Green Omaha attorney; County commissioner George Woodward and Francis Casey, Plattsmouth attorney, were possibilities.

Censorship

RIO DE JANEIRO (INS)—Rio De Janeiro newspapers reported that full censorship of radio and newspapers again is in operation in the capital.

They also reported that a pass is necessary for persons wishing to leave the capital zone.

The reasons for the new moves were not immediately determined.

Committees Meet Preliminary To State Sessions

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP) — Advance work in the joint state convention of the Nebraska Reclamation Assn. and the Nebraska State Irrigation Assn. began Wednesday with meetings of the resolutions committees.

George Munn of Ord, first vice president of the irrigation group, will preside at the association's session Thursday, acting in the absence of Gordon Storm, former Mitchell resident and association president, who now resides in Arizona.

Thursday R. J. Walter, Jr., of Denver, Region 7 director of the Bureau of Reclamation, will talk on "Nebraska Projects, 1955-56," and Col. Anthony Fleming of Omaha, assistant district engineer of the Corps of Engineers Projects In Nebraska, 1055-56." Sen. Roman L. Hruska speaks at the Thursday joint banquet.

Big Springs Okays School Bond Issue

BIG SPRINGS, Neb. (AP)—An $86,000 sinking fund bond issue to build a grade school here 10 years hence was approved at a special election. The vote was 117 to 40.

How Many Houses?

Alaskan Solons Confused By Nebraska's Constitution

OMAHA (AP)—Sen. Earl Lee of Fremont should get a kick out of this and an opportunity to proclaim once again the need for a constitutional convention in Nebraska. That's something he has advocated for quite a spell but hasn't been able to get the needed legislative support for.

It seems that in Fairbanks, Alaska, the Alaskan constitutional convention is in session. One might say a slightly confused session. A story from Fairbanks told of confusion—due to a reading of the Nebraska constitution.

The Alaskan delegates got tossed for a loop when they read section 17 of Article 3, Legislative, of the state constitution. It says that impeachment power rests with a join convention of the House-Senate branches of the state government.

Of course there is no House and no Senate. Just the one-house Unicameral. That's what threw the Alaskans, who wondered how you would impeach anyone with that set-up.

But it isn't quite that way. If you go back to Section 1, Article 3, you find that Section 1 deals with the Unicameral powers, replacing an old section. And it gives the Unicameral all powers formerly vested in the House and Senate—thus power of impeachment.

Still, Section 17 is still around to cause wonderment.

Nebraska hasn't had a constitutional convention since 1920—as Sen. Lee delights to point out.

Nebraskans To Speak At Engineering Meet

Two University of Nebraska agricultural engineers—L. W. Hurlbut and P. W. Schleusener—will present papers before the annual winter meeting of the American Society of Agricultural Engineering in Chicago Dec. 11-14.

Schleusener also will take part in a panel discussion.

Cudahy On Black Side Of Ledger

. . . After '54 Loss

OMAHA (AP) — Cudahy Packing Co. announced Wednesday the results of sweeping changes it has made in its business during the last two years — return "to a profitable basis with net income amounting to $2,702,755" for the fiscal year ended Oct. 29.

Cudahy reported a net loss of $7,162,254 for the 1954 fiscal year.

The return of operations to the profit side of the ledger was traced by the company to "major adjustments" of the last two years. During this time Cudahy closed a number of unprofitable plants and branches and made other changes in its producing and distributing facilities.

The dollar sales volume in the 1955 fiscal year amounted to $308,142,000 compared to $454,794,000 in 1954, the report said. The 32 per cent decrease in sales was attributed to "lower prices throughout this year."

The report said the sales tonnage of edible products was "only 26 per cent less than in 1954 despite the fact that the units closed at the end of that year produced 40 per cent of the total dollar volume and sales tonnage."

The ratio of current assets to current liablities was 2.1 to 1 at the close of the 1955 fiscal year compared to 1.74 to 1 a year earlier.

Hike In Well Irrigation Said Highlight Of Year

Drilling Rate Increase Due To Drought

Nebraska farmers irrigated 400,000 acres of cropland this year and more than half of this land was planted to corn, state-federal agricultural statistician A. E. Anderson reported Wednesday.

A sharp increase in well irrigation highlighted the year, he said.

Land irrigated from reservoirs has increased only slightly during the past eight years and now totals about 640,009 acres, or 46 per cent of the total irrigated area.

But well irrigation has climbed from 383,000 acres in 1948 to about 760,000 acres this year.

Wells brought in after the 1955 crop season are expected to bring the total land available for irrigation to one and a half million acres compared with one and a third million acres last year, Anderson said.

Drought during the past two years has more than doubled the rate at which irrigation wells are being drilled, he observed.

About 750,000 of this year's irrigated acres went into corn, which means that about 11 per cent of Nebraska's total corn acreage was irrigated. This 11 per-cent produced about half of this year's corn crop.

Other irrigated crops included about 200,000 acres in alfalfa, 55,000 acres in sugar beets, 70,000 acres in dry edible beans, and 15,000 acres in potatoes, in addition to some pasture and hay crops.

Madison Woman Heads State Group

Mrs. C. E. Brillhart of Madison, left, was elected president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Nebraska Veterinary Medical Association at the auxiliary's annual business meeting Wednesday at the Lincoln Hotel. Other state officers named were Mrs. J. H. Magilton of David City, center, vice president, and Mrs. E. R. Metcalfe of DeWitt, right, secretary-treasurer. Preceding the meeting, the auxiliary met for a brunch, and Wednesday evening the group joined the members of the Veterinary Association for a banquet and dance at the Lincoln Hotel. Star Photo)

Rex R. Mullens, Former Teacher And Coach, Dies

PLATTE CENTER, Neb. — Funeral services were held at the Baptist Church in Platte Center for Rex R. Mullens, former teacher and coach. He died in a Columbus hospital after a long illness.

A native of Baileyton, Tenn., he was graduated from Cedar Rapids, Neb., High School and Wayne State Teachers College. He had also attended Colorado State College of Education in Greeley, Colo.

After five years of teaching in Boone and Nance County rural schools, he held coaching positions at Madison, Cozad, Genoa and Arapahoe. For the past several years he served as superintendent of schools at Reynolds and Duncan, Neb., and in Kansas schools.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Charles Mullens of Platte Center, one sister, and three brothers.

Ex-Omahan Joins Rep. Smith's Staff

WASHINGTON (AP)—James F. Flanagan, 31, former Omaha radio news man has joined the staff of Rep. Lawrence H. Smith, a Republican from Wisconsin's First District.

He formerly served as press secretary to Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Neb) of Falls City in Nebraska's First District.

Flanagan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Flanagan of Falls City, Neb. He was graduated from Creighton University School of Journalism. During the 1954 campaign he was press representative for Senators Carl T. Curtis and Roman L. Hruska and Second District Representative Jackson B. Chase.

Dorchester Farmer Loses His Life As Auto Upsets

HighwayDeath Toll Hits 300

WILBER, Neb. (AP) — Nebraska counted its 300th highway fatality Wednesday as Ed Kadlec, about [illegible] farmer, died in the upset of his car about 18 miles northwest of Wilber.

Deputy County Attorney Joe Vosoba, who investigated, said Kadlec apparently fell asleep at the wheel and his car overturned, pinning him underneath.

The accident occurred on a road 5½ miles north of the so-called Halfway Station, which is 12 miles west of Wilber.

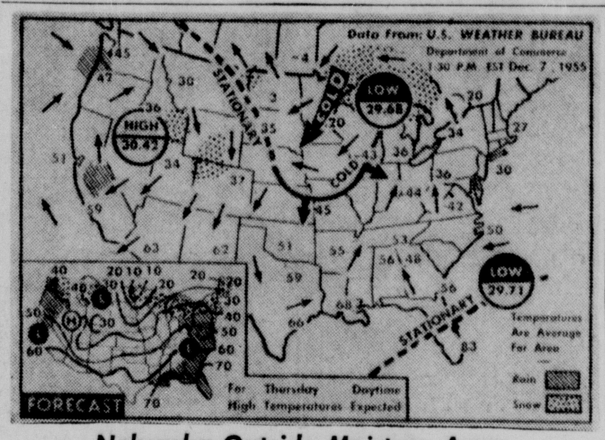

At this time last year Nebraska had counted 304 traffic deaths.

Share Of Sugar Increase Sought For U.S. Growers

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP) — The National Beet Growers Federation gave unanimous approval to a resolution asking revision of the sugar act so that domestic producers get a share of the annual increase in the U.S. market.

Federation Executive Director Richard Blake, Greeley, Colo., said the domestic producers want a 55 per cent share of the increase beginning in 1956. Present law gives Cuba 96 per cent of any increase and other foreign producers the remaining four per cent.

The Federation's 10th annual meeting elected Melvin Bennett, Gering, Neb., president of the Nebraska Sugar Growers Association, as second vice chairman.

W J. Garst, Worland, Wyo., advanced from first vice chairman to chairman for 1956, and Earl Smith, Greeley, from second vice chairman to first vice chairman.

Box Butte Ag Group Plans Annual Meet

Legal Okay Gives Jefferson Sheriff Beer Sale Rights

FAIRBURY, Neb. (AP) — Jefferson Couny Sheriff Deyo Hughes had to have a legal opinion before he felt safe in going ahead with a sale ordered in connection with a judgment action.

Among the items for sale were about 40 cases of beer—and since Hughes doesn't have a liquor license he wondered if he dared to sell it.

But he got a nod from the attorney general and he sold the beer under rigid specifications.

Want A Maid Cheap? —Get A Job Overseas

By FRED ZUSY

ROME (AP) — Are you tiring of doing housework?

Can't afford help—or find it?

Your American sisters living abroad have no such trouble.

Here almost any employed American can afford a servant to cook, clean, shop, wash, iron and lend a hand with junior.

You'll have to get along without such things as supermarkets electric dishwashers, automatic garbage disposals and probably washing machines. The servant takes their place, often working 16 hours a day and rarely asking more than an afternoon off a week.

An Associated Press survey of 10 European and Mediterranean countries showed you can hire household help for an average of $25 to $30 a month. The lowest cost is in Spain and Egypt, where local families with a monthly income of $50 to $60 have servants. Spanish maids start at 100 pesetas, or $2.50 a month. In Egypt, a boy or girl in from the country works for one Egyptian pound a month. That's $2.80. Even in more expensive Italy, some Italian families pay only $13 monthly.

Being a "rich American," by foreign standards, you'll pay a little more than local residents for household help, but not too much.

The figures might be a little deceiving. Plus the average $25 to $30 monthly, you provide the servant a bedroom and food, although in Italy the servant is usually expected not to eat any of the employer's meat, even leftovers. In some countries, if your maid is sick, you pay her doctor and hospital bills. You might get stuck, too, for small social security payments and severance pay of a month's pay for each year of service.

But most Americans living overseas find they can afford it. They're much better off financially than the average European in the same social class due to higher American salary scales.

Servants cost the most—up to $60 a month—in the northern European countries. There the average European housewife is in much the same fix as most American women.

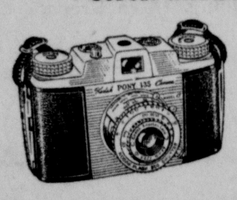

Yes, you can match that "someone special" on your gift list with a fine Kodak "miniature"

Colfax County Official Heads Superintendents

Wilfred Semrad, school superintendent of Colfax County, was elected president of the Nebraska Association of County Superintendents Wednesday.

Other officers are: Mrs. Elizabeth Ellison, Saunders County, vice president; Mrs. Ruth McQuiston, Perkins County, secretary, and Eldon Cunningham, Hall County, treasurer.

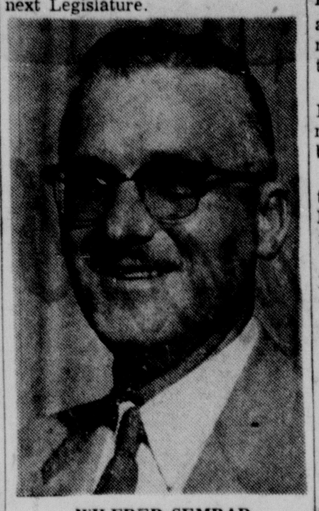

An address of welcome was given by Stanley Hawley. Miss Alta Louise Otto, outgoing president, gave a response.

John Lynch, field representative for the Nebraska State Education Association, urged the superintendents to personally deliver ballots to teachers so that they can vote on the Social Security question before Dec 17.

If the teachers vote in favor of Social Security there will be a double retirement system for teachers through state and Social Security. Fred Herrington, state tax commissioner, will count the ballots.

Mrs Ann Campbell, Madison County, spoke on her experiences at the White House Conference on Education.

The afternoon session included discussion of suggestions that the group wishes to place before the next Legislature.

GM Brass Fires Back At Dealers

WASHINGTON (AP)—A General Motors vice president asserted Wednesday that car dealers who complain about GM's policies are those who were unprepared for the day "when customers ceased walking into their stores clamoring to have their names put on an order blank."

William F. Hufstader, boss of GM's distribution staff, told a Senate Monopoly subcommittee that the vast majority of General Motors dealers "are among the most successful small businessmen in the country."

Those willing to plan ahead, he said, had shared in the corporation's expanding sales and "are not worrying about keeping their heads above water in the competitive current."

Hufstadter got a chance to reply to various dealer complaints after a sharp exchange between Harlow H. Curtice, GM's president, and Joseph W. Burns, chief counsel for the subcommittee.

The senators are making what they have described as a "study" of General Motors' development into the biggest manufacturing organization in the nation and the world. For more than two weeks they have been airing complaints of past and present dealers about pressures put on them by the giant corporation.

NU Students Want Bigger Union 'Crib'.

University of Nebraska students would like to have an expanded Corn Crib in their student Union, with a dancing area, card facilities and adjoining terrace.

A poll taken by the Union showed 61 per cent of the students polled, or 2,232, would use such facilities frequently and 21 per cent needed them from time to time.

Duane Lake, Student Union managing director, said the poll was taken to determine what added facilities students want included in the Union expansion program.

Parking Lot

A car parking area near the Union which more than half the students said they need frequently ranked second in importance in the poll.

Nearly half the students said they would use a small auditorium very often and another third said they would use it occasionally.

A suggested auditorium seating between 300 and 500 would be used for movies, lectures, musicals, forums and television broadcasts.

Nearly half the students said they wanted a book and supply store to replace the present Regents Bookstore and another one-fourth said they would use it from time to time.

Forty per cent of men students said they would use a barbershop in the Union frequently and another one-fourth said they would use it occasionally.

Henry Fonda, Wife Trying Separation

NEW YORK (INS)—Actor Henry Fonda and his wife, Susan Blanchard, announced in New York Wednesday they were mutually agreed to a trial separation.

Fonda recently returned from Europe where his film commitments have prevented him from being with his wife for some time.

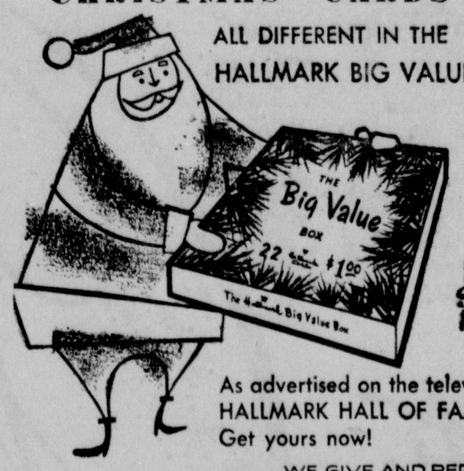

There are no definite plans other than the trial separation, Mrs. Fonda has leased a separate apartment in New York.

The Fondas were married in New York in December, 1950. It was Mrs. Fonda's first marriage and Fonda's third.

Million Dollar Goal

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry has announced a campaign to raise a million dollars to support the foundation's work. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, president of the foundation, said its aim is "an integration of religious and psychiatric therapies" to treat mental and emotional disturbances.

Wimberley Applies For Old Job At Kearney

The Board of Control admitted Wednesday that Supt. M. L. Wimberly, who resigned as superintendent of the Men's Reformatory after being its head for 71 days following the firing of Supt. George Morris, had made application for re-employment at his former position as superintendent at the Boys' Training School, Kearney.

Failure to announce his desire to return to his old job was described as an oversight by a spokesman for the board. His place was taken at Kearney by Nolan Ellandson, who for three months had been an inside parole officer at the Penitentiary and previously had been a consultant at the Kearney school.

Gov. Victor Anderson had written Tom Spence, Scotts Bluff County Young Republican chairman that he believed the board would be "glad" to assist Wimberley in returning to institution work, "in any way they can if and when he might want to go back into institutional work."

Meanwhile Phil Vogt, Douglas County Welfare Director, announced that he has asked Wimberly to take a position as his assistant in an administrative capacity.

Vogt said that if Wimberly accepts he will broaden his original plans to take advantage of his capabilities after 28 years experience in dealing with boys.

While he said he would rather have Wimberley with him, Vogt commented, "I don't want to jeopardize his returning to Kearney because I realize he's of service to us." He pointed out that nearly one-third of the boys in the Kearney school are from Omaha.

Vogt said Wimberly had asked to delay his decision until Mrs. Wimberley underwent an eye operation and was on the road to recovery. He said he was expecting a visit from Wimberley any day.

Best Wishes To Finns

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower Wednesday sent his best wishes to the president of Finland whose country is celebrating its Independence Day. The message to President Juho Paasikivi said: "I am happy to convey to Your Excellency and to the people of Finland the felicitations and sincere good wishes of the people of the United States on this national anniversary of the independence of Finland."

Sheridan Is Director

NEW YORK (AP) — Homer C. Sheridan, president of Omaha Cold Storage Co., has been elected a director of Consolidated Foods Corp., of Chicago, canner, processor and distributor of food products, it was announced.

Colonels Rejected

BERLIN (INS)—A West German Defense Ministry screening committee rejected the applications of two former Wehrmacht colonels as unsuitable for appointment to the new army's general staff.

No official reason was given for the rejection of Kurt Fett and Helmuth Bergengruen, the former colonels, both of whom were leading officials in the Bonn defense military planning staff creating the new army allied to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Cleveland Cops Brand Burning Of Youth 'Hoax'

CLEVELAND (INS)—Cleveland police branded as a hoax Wednesday the story of a 17-year-old high school senior who said he was chained to a log, doused with turpentine and set afire.

Capt. David Kerr of the Cleveland homicide unit said that Earl Fryman "apparently set fire to himself" in Metropolitan Park. The youth is in poor condition at Fairview Park Hospital.

Kerr reported that Fryman had purchased from the May Co. in downtown Cleveland the chain which the student claimed three youths had used to bind him. A woman clerk who waited on him also said the boy bought a padlock and inquired about purchasing turpentine.

The clerk explained that the idea of buying turpentine was dropped when she told Fryman she did not have the quart size he wanted.

Fryman went to Fairview Park Hospital Tuesday night, stark naked and badly burned.

He claimed three youths picked him up while he was hitchhiking to St. Ignatius Roman Catholic High School, drove him around all day and then took him to the park where they stripped him, chained him to a log and set fire to him.

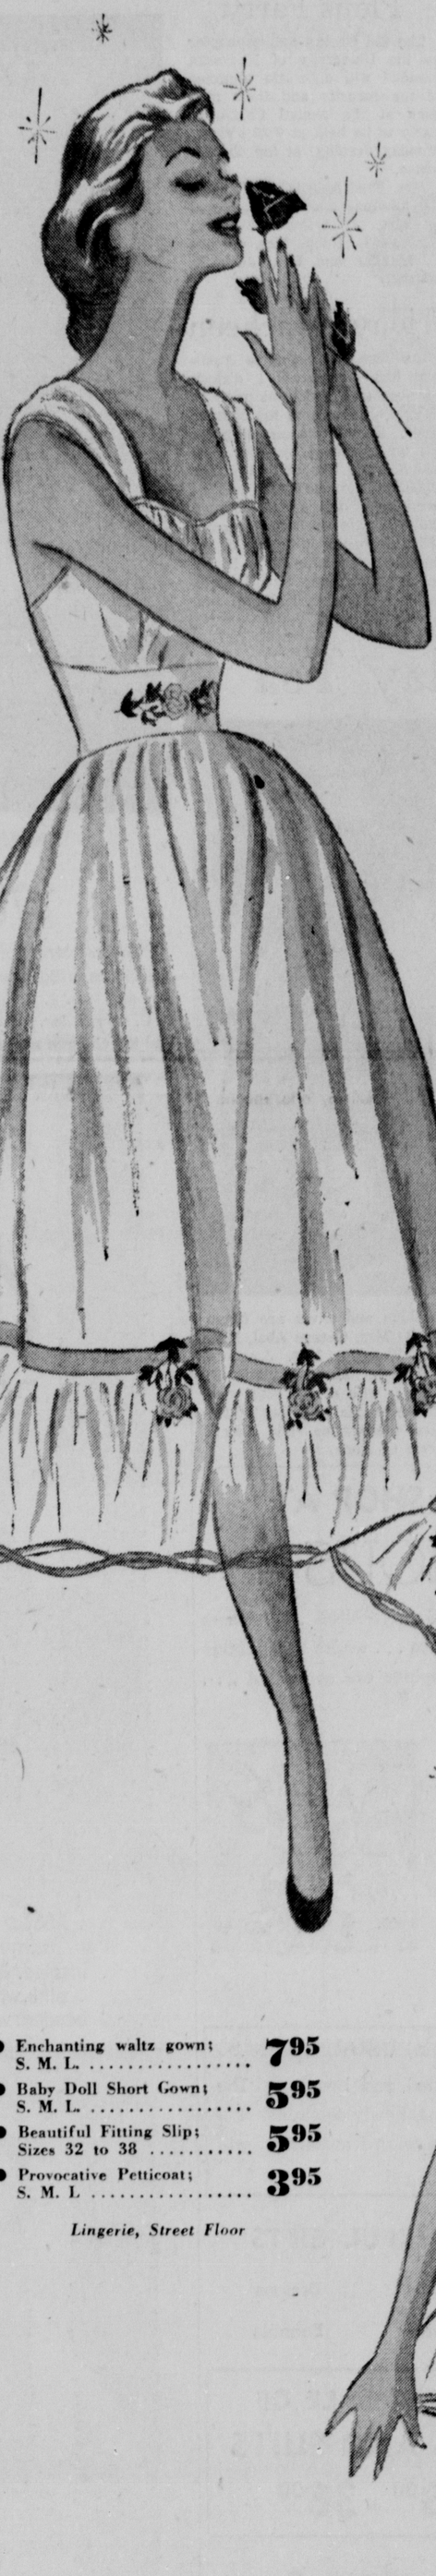

Kerr also said the youth attended a movie Tuesday in downtown Cleveland, another fact that tore a gaping hole in what detectives described as a "fantastic story."

Brass Fined

PEORIA, Ill. (INS)—An Illinois state senator and a Peoria city councilman were fined $25 for illegal duck shooting.

The state senator, Clyde C. Trager, is chairman of the Senate's committee on fish, game and parks.

HONORED AT DINNER

In prenuptial courtesy to Miss Jean Jensen and her fiance, Bill Hollon, whose marriage will be solemnized on Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Morton were a dinner host and hostess at their home in Beatrice on Tuesday evening. The guest list included only members of the families.

Junior Club Committee

A workshop meeting of committee members planning the Christmas supper and "Hanging of the Greens" of the Lincoln Junior Woman's Club, to be held next Wednesday evening at the Belmont Community Center, has been called for Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Stanley Wentz.

Betrothal Is Top News

WE have exciting news again this morning — and it involves the betrothal of a prominent Lincoln girl—

For this morning Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ashley Dillman announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Barbara, to Howard J. Jensen of Lincoln, son of Mrs. Howard O. Jensen of Blair, and the late Mr. Jensen.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, March 10.

Miss Dillman was graduated from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Gamma sorority, and Pi Lambda Theta. At present she is working towards her Master's Degree in English at the University.

Mr. Jensen, who is a chemical engineer, received his degree from the University of Nebraska College of Engineering and is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

* * *

APROPOS of brides-to-be—Found that the late week calendar includes numerous courtesies for Miss Sue Ramey whose marriage to Allan Holbert will be solemnized on Dec. 17.

There are three parties for Miss Ramey on Saturday — the first is a 10 o'clock coffee on Saturday morning when Miss Mary Elizabeth Shaffer and Miss Margie Hooks are hostesses at the Gamma Phi Beta House. The 25 guests will present the bride-elect with a one-gift shower.

The second Saturday courtesy is the fivesome luncheon for which Mrs. John Wenstrand and Mrs. Edna Perrin will be hostesses when they entertain at the University Club.

And on Saturday evening Miss Ramey will be the honoree at a 6 o'clock chili supper and pantry shower for which Mrs. Clifford Kahl will be hostess.

* * *

COMPLIMENTING both Miss Ramey and her fiance on Sunday morning will be Mr. and Mrs. Harlan J. Dutton who have invited 12 guests for a 9 o'clock breakfast at their home.

* * *

ALSO on the calendar for the week-end is the Junior League "Snowflake Fling"— a dinner dance for Junior League members and their guests—

The guest list, though still incomplete, includes the following names—

Mr. and Mrs. John Hoppe, who will be the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Ludwick, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Martin of Grand Island, who will attend the party with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pansing; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hunter of Hastings, who will be the party guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McNutt; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sayre will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Richard Martin, and the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson will be Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Burden. Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur Wiedman will have Dr. Wiedman's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. John Wiedman as the guests at the dinner dance.

Plans Party

The Chi Omega active chapter on the University of Nebraska campus will entertain alumnae of the sorority and their children at the annual Christmas party to be held at 7:30 o'clock, Monday evening, at the chapter house.

Mrs. Fred Akin is chairman of the alumnae committee assisted by Mrs. J. Arthur Danielson, Mrs. O. L. Koch, Mrs. Horace V. Munger and Mrs. John K. Selleck.

Friday Luncheon

The Alpha Tau Omega Auxiliary has planned a 1 o'clock luncheon and Christmas party to be held on Friday at the chapter house. The afternoon program will be presented by Mrs. Clifford Schroff, who will show her collection of music boxes, and by members of the A.T.O. chapter who will sing Christmas music.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes Mrs. R. E. Mobley, chairman; Mrs. George Gohde, Mrs. W. C. Harding, and Mrs. Orin Curtis.

MISS BARBARA DILLMAN

Alpha Xi Delta To Entertain

The annual Christmas party for the children of Alpha Xi Delta Alumnae will be held at the chapter house Monday evening beginning at 7 o'clock.

The party, which will have as its theme, "Sleigh Bells Ring," will include gifts, refreshments, and of course, Santa Claus, and in charge of arrangements will be Mrs. Velma Hodder, Mrs. J. W. Olson, Miss Lulu Runge and Miss Barbara Medlin.

Credit Women Hold Party

Members of the Lincoln Credit Women's Breakfast Club held their annual Christmas party Tuesday morning when the group met for a 7 o'clock breakfast at the Hotel Cornhusker.

The program included carol singing and a gift exchange.

Pet Show On Saturday

Lincoln Camp Fire Girls, Blue Birds and Horizon Club members are completing arrangements for their pet show which will be held Saturday afternoon in the 4-H Club Building at the State Fair Grounds.

Open to all children in Lincoln, whether they own pets or not, the show will begin at 1 o'clock.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Veach and their family have returned to their home in Edgemont, S. D. after a visit with Mr. Veach's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Veach, and Mrs. Veach's parents, Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Owens. Mr. Veach was in Lincoln only briefly, but Mrs. Veach and the children remained for a several days stay.

BSP Chapter Anniversary

The 24th anniversary of Lambda Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, was celebrated Sunday evening by the members when they met for a charter day banquet at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Presiding as toastmistress was Mrs. Ronald Butler and program speakers were Mrs. Herbert Casey, "The Past in Beta Sigma Phi"; Mrs. Robert Stoner, "The Present"; and Mrs. Jerry Frye, "The Future".

A gift exchange was held and "secret sisters" were revealed. Guests included Mrs. Casey, Mrs. Ann Boyd and Miss Jo Neukam.

The next meeting of the chapter will be held Monday evening in the new chapter rooms, and the annual Christmas party will be held Monday evening, Dec. 19, at the home of Mrs. Glen Herbert.

The regular business meeting of Delta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, was held Monday evening at the home of Miss Rita McKinzie. Miss Noeline Ficke gave the program, "Pleasures of Possession: The Collector", and the members made plans to give a Christmas dinner to a needy family.

LARC Group Hears Speaker

The parents and teachers of LARC School held their regular meeting Monday morning at the school at which time the guest speaker was Dr. E. G. Wilkinson, pediadonist. Dr. Wilkinson spoke on, "Care of the Teeth," and showed X-ray slides to illustrate his talk.

The program also included a short talk on legislation by Mrs. L. A. Enerson.

December Bride-Elect

MISS CARLENE LENORE BARBER

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Carl Barber of Fairbury announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carlene Lenore, to William E. Sinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Sinn of Alexandria.

The wedding is planned for Monday, Dec. 26, and the ceremony will take place at the First Christian Church in Fairbury.

Miss Barber, who now is attending Texas Wesleyan University at El Paso, is a former student at Nebraska Wesleyan University where she is a member of Delta Zeta sorority. Her fiance is serving with the Armed Forces and now is stationed at Ft. Bliss.

Officers Wives' Holiday Tea

A group of Lincoln women were included among the guests Wednesday afternoon when the Officers Wives Club of the Lincoln Air Force Base entertained at a pre-holiday tea at the Officers Club on the Base.

The Christmas decorations of the club were augmented by an exhibit of imported "treasures" collected by the officers wives when they accompanied their husbands on overseas tours of duty.

Looking at the display of English china and silver are (from the left) Mrs. George Abel, Mrs. Ervin Wursten, Mrs. James Farnsworth, Mrs. William F. Coleman, wife of the 98th wing commander and member of the hostess committee, and Mrs. Marvin O. Pope.

Law Is Vague On Just What Is Legal Tender

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Out in Downey, Calif., the other day, Raymond P. Vinzant tried to pay off an $88.19 debt by dumping 8,819 pennies on Anthony J. Rivera's sidewalk.

Rivera promptly yelled, Foul! It wasn't legal tender, Rivera said, and Municipal Judge A. Daniel Boone upheld him.

So Vinzant scooped the money back into his bucket and departed with a final shout, "Ft. Knox says these are legal tender."

All of which explains why the guardians of the Ft. Knox gold deposits, the boys at the Treasury Department, were asked today:

What is legal tender? That is, what is a creditor compelled by law to accept as legal payment of a debt?

Nothing Simple

Well, nothing in this town ever turns out to be simple.

In one place the U. S. Code plainly says that pennies and nickels are legal tender in payments up to 25 cents. In another, the code says silver coins of less than $1 are legal tender for sums not exceeding $10.

But an official Treasury pamphlet, "Facts About United States Money," quotes still another portion of the code and says:

"All coins and currencies of the United States including Federal Reserve notes and circulating notes of Federal Reserve banks and national banking associations ... are legal tender for all debts, public and private, public charges, taxes, duties and dues."

Don't Know

How come the discrepancy?

"I don't know," a legal eagle at the Treasury said. "Look, I'm not trying to duck this question. I really don't know. This is one of those conflicts that would have to be settled in the courts, and so far as I know, it never has been up for decision."

Actually, the question dates back to the time when legal tender really meant something. Various banks issued their own currency, and its value varied. A debtor had to keep a wary eye on the money with which he was paid.

But not too much attention is paid to legal tender. For example, checks, even a certified one, aren't legal tender. But wouldn't you like to see one show up in the mail today?

Not Consistent

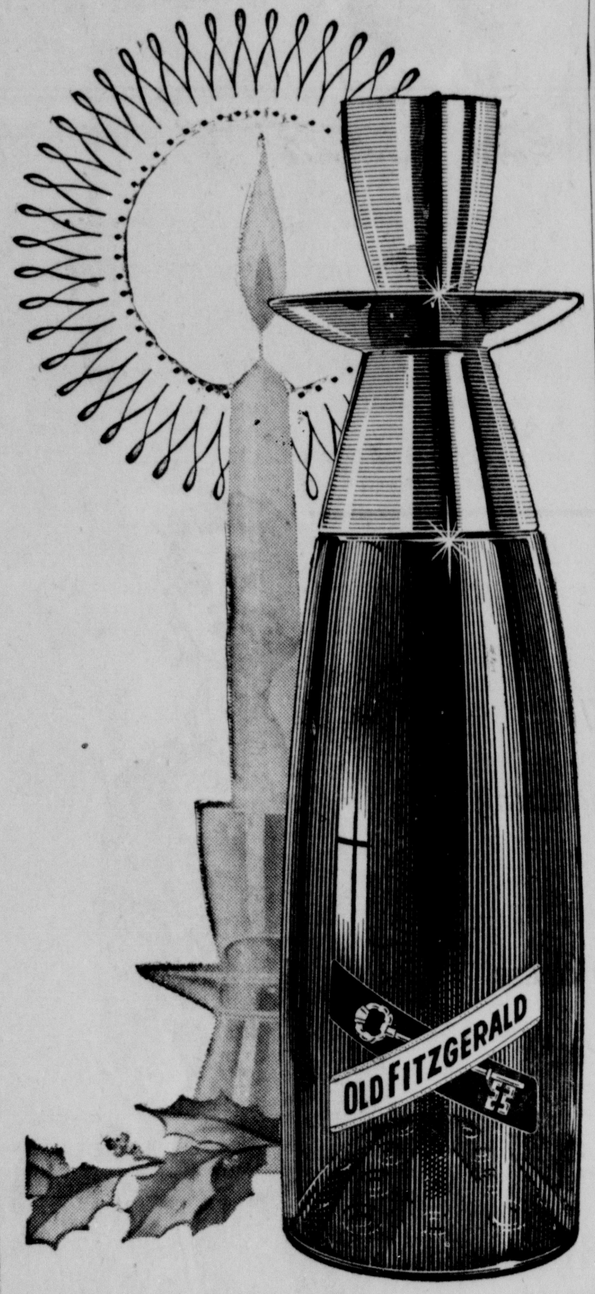

Obviously, the U. S. Code on small coins is designed to prevent unnecessary harassment by dumping a bucketful of coins as a debt payment. Yet even here the law isn't consistent. There's nothing to keep anyone from legally paying a debt of $8,819 with 8,819 silver dollars.

Nobody at the Treasury seemed to know what the reaction there would be if you tried to pay a tax bill in pennies. It seemed generally agreed that if anyone would dump a bucket of pennies on Pennsylvania Avenue, Secretary Humphrey wouldn't go out and pick them up. At least, not personally.

"But if you showed up with a wheelbarrow full of pennies," a Treasury man said, "my guess is we'd take you right back to the money counting machines and start counting."

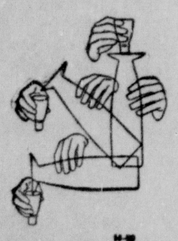

Don't miss it. News of friends on vacation, marriages, engagements, parties, PTA notes and club meetings makes good reading in The Sunday Journal and Star.

Some Sadder, Wiser

Not All Traffic 'Rights' Realized By Lincolnites

By AL EDEE
Star Staff Writer

More than one Lincoln resident has gone to court over a traffic violation to defend what he believed were "his rights."

After the morning session at Municipal Court he usually comes away a little poorer and a whole lot wiser.

And to make sure he does not remain ignorant of city traffic rules a small compact volume is presented to him.

If you haven't read the fine print yet, here are a few rules that are found in Ordinance No. 5699.

1. The driver of any vehicle traveling at an unlawful rate of speed shall forfeit any right of way which he might otherwise have.

2. When an emergency vehicle approaches, the driver of any other car not only must pull over to the right hand edge of the street but must stop until the vehicle has passed.

Going Slow? Stay Right

3. Many drivers going at a slow rate of speed still insist upon using the left lane in four lane traffic. The city ordinance directs that slowly moving and large vehicles shall keep in the line of traffic nearest the right hand curb. The ordinance also states it shall be unlawful for the driver of a vehicle about to be overtaken and passed by another vehicle to increase the speed of his vehicle until completely passed by the overtaking vehicle.

This is not just violated by the driver who will not allow cars to pass him. There is an unconscious tendency on the part of many drivers to accelerate slightly when his vehicle is about to be overtaken.

4. Do you know there is an arm signal for leaving a parallel parking place? The left hand and arm should be extended horizontally from the car. The same signal should be used in turning from one lane of traffic into another lane. Changing lanes in one-way streets is expecially hazardous. An arm signal may save a collision.

Alley Rules

5. In driving through an alley in the business district always enter from the west or from the north. The speed limit in an alley is 10 miles per hour.

6. The ordinance prohibits posters, or any advertising matter, to be placed on any window glass of any motor vehicle.

7. It is unlawful to drive over fire hose.

8. If you are a passenger in a car that is involved in a collision, and the driver of the vehicle is injured severely, it is your duty to report the accident to police.

You can park in front of a private business drive in a congested district after normal business hours unless prohibited by signs posted by the police department.

Anticolloquial Campaign

ATLANTA (AP) — The late Judge William H. Black left Emory University $5,000 to be paid at the rate of $500 a year to the freshman at Emory or any college of the University System of Georgia who writes the best essay on this subject: "We Georgians Are Often Our Own Worst Enemies When We Intentionally Use Colloquialisms In Preference to Standard English."

City Employes Ask Use Of 93 Acres Near Platte

A group of city employees have asked to be given sole right of development and use of a city-owned recreation area west of the Platte River and sough of Highway 6.

The 93 acres involved is the site of the city's Ashland water well field. The spot has been a subject of controversy among fishermen for many years.

When under private ownership, tresspassers used the land for entrance to the Platte and the mouth of Salt Creek and fished the many sand pits in the area.

Now under city ownership, the property is posted against admittance and fencing the entire area is planned.

The sand pits contain bass, bluegills, catfish and bullheads.

The City Employees Association has asked for a lease of the area for its development as a recreational center for members only. The letter of request to the City Council noted that the area is now littered with beer cans and other debris.

The Association, the letter said, would clean the grounds up, put in a picnic area and do what planting funds permitted.

The request was turned over to a Council committee of Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme and Pat Ash.

Falls Citians Will Hear Republicans

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP)—Governor Victor E. Anderson, Sen. Carl T. Curtis and Rep. Phil Weaver will give informal talks at a dinner sponsored here Friday night by the Richardson County Republican Women's Club.

Mrs. Jennie Cain, president of the organization, said that the major function of the club is to provide a common meeting ground or forum whereby elected public officials can meet informally with the people to discuss current state and national problems.

Veterinarian Honored

Dr. John D. Sprague of David City, only living charter member of the State Veterinary Assn., was honored with a special recognition pin at the association meeting here. Dr. Sprague, now retired from practice, has attended every one of the 59 annual meetings of the state group. A graduate of a Chicago veterinary college in 1895, he was head of the division of auction markets in the State Veterinarians office several years ago. (Star Photo.)

Engineering Honorary Initiates Four At NU

Four University of Nebraska juniors were initiated into Pi Tau Sigma, honorary mechanical engineering society, at a dinner meeting Wednesday night. James I. Ellis of Lincoln was the main speaker at the event.

Initiated were: Rodney Madsen of Del Rapids, S. D.; Charles F. Johnson, Lincoln; Arvell Witte, Syracuse; and William Kampfe, Omaha.

Midland Grad, Ensign Go To Rhodes Finals

OMAHA (AP)—Navy Ensign Robert B. Pirie Jr. of Wymore and Paul H. Scherer of Midland College were chosen Wednesday as Nebraska's candidates for Rhodes Scholarships at Oxford University in England.

They will compete with two students from each of five other states at Des Moines Saturday for four scholarships. The other candidates are from Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota.

A Nebraska Rhodes Scholarship Committee, headed by the Very Rev. Carl M. Reinert, S. J., president of Creighton University, interviewed four Nebraska candidates at Creighton Wednesday.

Also competing were John Greer, Lincoln, a 1953 graduate of the University of Nebraska and now an Air Force jet pilot, and John Gourlay, Lincoln, a senior at the University of Nebraska.

Pirie, graduated from the Naval Academy last June, is a son of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Robert B. Pirie of Wymore, Neb. The admiral is chief of staff to the commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

Pirie is stationed aboard the USS Meredith, a destroyer with home port at Norfolk, Va. He studied one year at Princeton University before entering Annapolis.

Ensign Pirie, who intends to make the Navy a career, plans to study political science if he gets the Oxford scholarship.

Scherer, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Henry Scherer of Los Angeles, was graduated from Midland College at Fremont last June and now is a graduate student at the University of Wisconsin. He plans a teaching career and would study modern European history at Oxford.

Both Pirie and Scherer were prominent in athletics while in college.

Besides Father Reinert, the Nebraska scholarship committee was made up of Omaha Attorney Paul F. Good, Dean Edmund O. Belsehin of the University of Nebraska Law School, and H. A. Gunderson a Fremont attorney.

New Wells Reported

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—Superior Oil and Banner Oil Co., reported new wells. Superior's oiler is the Olsen No. 46-19 in Morrill County, the eighth for the company in the Olsen field, and Banner's is the Olsen No. 3 in the Banner County Olsen Field.

Opinions Differ

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—The United States and Britain differed on the prospects for electing the Philippines over Yugoslavia to a 1956-57 post on the U.N. Security Council.

A British spokesman asserted that inconclusive Assembly balloting in the election contest "made it clear" the U.S.-backed Philippines could not get the needed two-thirds majority for victory.

A U. S. spokesman challenged this assertion, saying that the Pacific nation has steadily kept the lead over its Communist rival.

Employes Will Work Records At Reformatory

Two new employes have been added to the payroll at the Men's Reformatory at salaries totaling in excess of $400 per month to take over the work on records formerly performed by inmates, Clifford Weidenthaler, personnel director for the Board of Control, revealed Wednesday.

There had been previous criticism of having inmates process their own records.

One inmate, it was learned, was used primarily to type records, including parole records.

One of the clerical employes now used on records was originally employed as a secretary for M. L. Wimberley during his 71 days as superintendent.

Weidenthaler also praised personnel changes recommended by B. B. Albert, penal director, for the Reformatory. The changes have been attacked by former Supt. George Morris, as "regimentation" which would have an adverse effect on the task of the Reformatory.

The personnel director had just held a discussion on organization plans with Robert Nichols, new Reformatory superintendent. Weidenthaler said guns being replaced at the Reformatory were old and were not operable.

Highest Price

NEW YORK (AP)—The common stock of the Superior Oil of California became the highest priced issue on the New York Stock Exchange when it traded at $1,010 Wednesday.

It passed Coca-Cola International an infrequently traded stock which recently sold for $1,015 a share.

Superior Oil has only about 1,100 stockholders.

In 1940 you could have bought the stock for $21 a share.

U.S. Friend Brings Korean Here To Study

Former Nebraskan Harry Swanson Jr. of Astoria, Ore., has brought a Korean friend to the United States to study.

Swanson and Lee Kyu Baik, 21, served together during the Korean crisis. Lee Kyu Baik was a petty officer first class in the Korean navy, and Swanson was a commander in the U.S. Navy.

Lee Kyu Baik had been Swanson's driver when he was stationed at Chinhae Naval Academy, about 40 miles from Pusan, Korea.

Swanson, impressed with Lee Kyu Baik's thirst for knowledge, left for the United States two years ago with the thought of bringing his friend to the U.S. to study. Lee Kyu Biak had already had two years of "middle school," which corresponds to high school in this country.

He will be enrolled in the Star of the Sea Catholic School at Astoria for a year to polish up his English. He now speaks it well but hesitantly.

Then Lee Kyu Baik will study for a technical degree in college, Swanson said.

Swanson is the son of former Nebraska Secretary of State Harry Swanson of Chadron.

WOMEN KNOW WHAT COLORS ARE BECOMING

NEW YORK (INS) — Women know what colors are becoming to them, says decorator John Abbate, and those are the colors they should use to decorate their homes.

"Furthermore," says Abbate, a member of the American Institute of Decorators, "if a woman looks her best in a room, her husband's going to be happy, too.

"Take one client of mine," he continued. "She's a horsey woman — loves riding and hunting and all that. She's happy with paddock colors. To give her ivory and gold would be madness."

Some Homes Dull

Abbate also thinks that homes done in all one period — be it French provincial or stark modern — are "dull". He explains that more Americans are traveling abroad and picking up souvenirs which can add an exciting touch to a room.

"I don't mean the 'Turkish corners' of Victorian rooms," he said, "with a water pipe and all that stuff. You can use modern furniture as the stabilizing factor of such a room. Otherwise you may get a room that looks like a museum."

The young decorator added that decorators should make every room look different, not follow seasonal trends.

"You shouldn't be able to identify a room as period 1955," he said.

GM Told:

Waiver Of Antitrust 'Possible'

...To Aid Dealers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said Wednesday Congress might agree to waive some antitrust laws to help the auto industry lick such problems as car bootlegging.

He told Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, that Congress has authority to enact legislation waiving antitrust provisions if it is in the public interest.

Curtice had just told O'Mahoneys Senate Monopoly subcommittee that bootlegging, protection of sales territory for dealers and "so-called price packing" are "in an area outside our control." He said there was a legal question as to whether manufacturers could take any corrective action without violating antitrust laws.

Suggests 'Fair Contract'

The senator suggested that Congress might be able to help if manufacturers and dealers got together on what he called a fair contract.

"I have some ideas, but I don't want to talk now because I first want the co-operation of all parties," O'Mahoney said.

Curtice disputed O'Mahoney's assertion that auto makers had forced their dealers to take more cars than they could sell on a sound financial basis. This practice has led to bootlegging, unsound credit and loss of profit by the retail dealers, the senator said.

Quick Sales

He and Curtice agreed that auto bootlegging involves quick sales of new cars by franchised dealers to used car dealers or others at cut rate or wholesale prices.

The GM chief said his corporation tried last year to make bootlegging a cause for dealer contract cancellation. But government attorneys advised GM that such a contract clause might bring criminal prosecution under the antitrust laws, he said.

GM Offers To Buy

Curtice said GM has offered to buy back at cost any excess new models held by dealers and that this has been done in some cases.

The Senate group is making what it calls a study of General Motors' development into the largest manufacturing organization in the nation and the world.

Another witness Wednesday was Louis C. Goad, executive vice president in charge of GM's automotive and parts division. Under questioning by the subcommittee's counsel, Goad said GM could, if it chose, take its business from any firm from which it buys parts and other items, and produce these itself. Goad added:

"What you're saying is 'Do we hold a big stick over them?' We don't."

Tippery Sentence Set At 3 Years

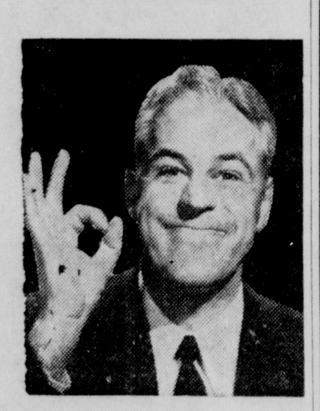

Thomas Tippery, 34, of 2300 So. 37th was sentenced to a three-year Penitentiary term in the June 7 burglary of the Moose Club at 6007 Havelock.

Tippery, who was wounded near the scene by a Lincoln police officer, had pleaded no contest in Lancaster District Court to the burglary charge.

It was erroneously reported in a previous item that Tippery had been given an indeterminate sentence by the court.

The co-defendant in the break-in was sentenced last July to three years imprisonment after pleading guilty then.

School Land Gets $5,000 Bonus Bid

A section of state school land northeast of Alliance has drawn a $5,000 agricultural lease bonus bid, the highest such bid received by the board this year, Secretary Robert Hiatt of the State Board of Educational Lands and Funds reported Wednesday.

Tom Manion of Alliance made the bonus offer at a public lease auction at Alliance. Four other bids were received.

The agricultural lease on the 640-acre tract currently is held by C. F. Tolstedt. Annual rental on the section currently is $1,746.

Japan, South Korea Relations Reach Close To Explosion Point

TOKYO (Thursday) — (INS) — Relations between two of America's closest allies in Asia, Japan and South Korea, reached close to the explosion point today in a bitter feud over President Syngman Rhee's jealously-guarded "peace line."

South Korea's pocket Navy was mobilized to capture not only Japanese fishing boats but also Japanese government escort vessels which try to "invade" the ROK-established line some 60 miles off the coast of Korea.

American concern over the tension was expressed by U.S. Army Secretary Wilbur M. Brucker who told newsmen in Seoul, after a two-hour meeting with Rhee, that "it would be a shame" if the two nations would not get along.

Brucker talked at length to the South Korean President about the feud after having told Japanese officials in Tokyo he wanted to help ease the friction that reached a high pitch with these new developments:

Lowest Point

1—Korean sources said that relations between Tokyo and Seoul have reached the lowest point since the ROKs threatened last summer to break off relations between the two neighboring countries.

2—Fifty-thousand South Korean fishermen demonstrated in Inchon, Korea and vowed to defend the "peace line" to their deaths.

The peace line was established during the Korean War to keep possible spies from ROK shores and has been used by the ROK Navy since the war to keep ambitious Japanese fishing vessels out.

3—ROK Defense Minister Sohn Won Il reaffirmed South Korea's determination to keep Japanese vessels from Korean shores and said "only time will tell" if ROK patrol boats would resort to "shoot to sink" measures.

'Defend'

4—The director of ROK marine affairs declared that all South Korean patrol craft have been mobilized to "defend" the peace line.

5—A leading Japanese fisheries official proposed economic embargo against South Korea if an appeal for U.S. mediation in the crisis failed.

The official, Hachiya Obama, said 2,717 Japanese fishermen and 208 boats already have been arrested by ROK authorities.

6—The South Korean Foreign Ministry attacked 500 Japanese fishermen who yesterday demonstrated in front of the Korean mission in Japan as committing a "malicious act."

7—South Korean counsellor Yiu Tai had called on the Japanese Foreign Office to warn that ROK forces would "have to fight back" if aggressive Japanese naval forces were used to protect fishing vessels inside the peace line.

However, ranking Japanese officials tried to minimize the threat of using Japanese armed vessels to protect their fishing boats.

Woman Held Guilty Interfering With Arrest; She Charges 'Gestapo Method'

A woman who accused Lincoln police of using Gestapo methods was found guilty Wednesday of interfering with an arrest and using foul and obscene language.

Mrs. Pauline L. Russell, 1836 M, had pleaded not guilty to the charges following her arrest Nov. 26.

She was found innocent in Municipal Court on a third charge of destruction of property of others.

A fine of $25 was assessed by Acting Judge Nate C. Holman on a charge of interfering with arrest and $10 for using foul and indecent language.

On the stand, Mrs. Russell said she had accused the police of Gestapo methods while they were placing her husband, Gerald, in a police cruiser in front of the Eagles Club at 11th and P. Her husband was charged with and found not guilty by Judge Holman of intoxication in the same incident.

Patrol Sgt Mel Green and Cruiser Officer Ed Kringle testified Mrs. Russell had called them abusive and uncomplimentary names when the Russells were being escorted to a cruiser. Sgt. Green said the police had been called to the club by the manager, who reported a disturbance.

Officer Kringle testified his shirt collar was torn off by Mrs. Russell in a fracas in front of the club and that Russell had swung on him. Kringle said he struck Russell "two or three" times with his flashlight.

Russell said his hands were being held behind his back when he was struck. Mrs. Russell said Kringle's collar was torn while she was pushing the policeman away from her husband.

Policewoman Hulda Roper testified Mrs. Russell had scratched paint off the walls of the cell in the women's section in the jail. Mrs. Russell denied the charge.

Mrs. Russell appealed the finding in Municipal Court and was placed under $100 bond.

C. A. Perry Dies; Past President State Lumbermen

Charles A. Perry, former president of the Nebraska Lumbermen's Association, died Wednesday at Long Beach, Calif., where he had made his home for the past 10 years.

Mr. Perry was formerly engaged in the lumber business in Lincoln and headed the state association while residing here.

The Perrys were members of First Plymouth Congregational Church.

Mr. Perry is survived by his wife, Edna C.; two daughters, Mrs. Duane Peterson of Wausa, Neb.; Mrs. Ed Christensen of Sioux City, Ia.; three sons, Melvin of Buena Park, Calif.; Leonard of Altadena, Calif; Paul of Long Beach; two brothers, Judge E. B. Perry of Lincoln; Robert H. Perry of Holdrege and one sister, Mrs. Bernice Phillips of Holdrege.

Funeral services are to be held in California.

Mrs. Gerdes Dies; Was In California

Services for Mrs. Lucille Gerdes, 58, a former Lincoln resident, will be held Friday morning at Fontana, Calif.

Mrs. Gerdes died at Fontana Tuesday.

Surviving are her husband, William, of Fontana; a daughter, Mrs. Robert Stevens of Bloomington, Calif.; son, Melvin of Bloomington; a sister, Mrs. Roy Haggerty of Farnam, Neb.; two brothers, Guy Allen and Ran Allen, both of Lincoln, and five grandchildren.

Taylor Urges Stability In Army Size

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, in a Pearl Harbor Day speech, said Wednesday night an aggressor, "by creating an atmosphere conducive to peaceful relaxation and wishful thinking," always has the advantage of being able to make a surprise attack on an unwary nation.

The Army chief of staff, made the point in an address to the American Ordnance Assn.

He made his comment in emphasizing the need for "stability" in the size and programs of the armed forces, and alertness to prevent sudden attacks such as occurred at Pearl Habor and again at the opening of the Korean War.

Taylor said "it is not easy for a democracy such as ours to protect itself absolutely against military surprise," but added there are some things that can be done to provide a "reasonable guarantee:"

A good intelligence system and "thorough knowledge of our potential enemies, of their motiviation and capabilities." It might be necessary to "place a certain reliance on international agreements designed to reduce the danger of surprise," such as the American proposal for mutual inspection of United States and Soviet Military capabilities.

Taylor said at this point:

"Since becoming chief of staff, I have frequently commented upon the increasing danger of small wars, which may erode the borders of the free world. Particularly, as our air-atomic deterrent capability increases, it becomes increasingly unlikely that any aggressor will deliberately embark upon a course of action calculated to bring on general atomic war. It is more and more apparent that such a war would be a mutually suicidal action from which no true victor could emerge.

"On the other hand, the attractiveness of undefended assets and resources offers an inducement to small-scale aggression which potentially may be as dangerous as the big war itself. The small war which is not quicky suppressed may expand slowly or rapidly into the general war which all sane people are so anxious to avoid."

Dedicated

PEARL HARBOR (AP)—A memorial in stone was dedicated Wednesday "To the eternal memory of those who gave their last full measure of devotion" in the Pearl Harbor attack just 14 years ago.

The 10-foot memorial of lava rock, with that legend engraved on a plaque, was unveiled in a simple ceremony.

"We know the cost of not being prepared," said Charles R. Topp, Davenport, Iowa, national commandant of the Navy Club of the United States in presenting the memorial to the Navy.

"We have a tendency—all too soon—to forget our heroes—and what is even worse, to forget the principles of which they dreamed and for which they died."

And so, he said, he and the Navy Club—which sponsored the memorial—were here now "to remember—to pay a debt."

A greying mother, Mrs. Burnett Sharpe, Phoenix, Ariz., formerly of Cincinnati, was the guest of the Navy at the dedication.

Two of her sons, Donald Lee Keniston and Kenneth H. Keniston, are among more than a thousand victims of the attack entombed forever in the Arizona.

California Patrols Alerted For Man Feared Kidnaper

BELL GARDENS, Calif. (INS)—California border patrols and Oklahoma authorities were alerted Wednesday to be on the lookout for a Cherokee Indian who is believed to have kidnaped his four young children from their Bell Gardens home Tuesday night.

Object of the manhunt is Jasper Fields, 30, a plasterer.

Sheriff's officers said he may have taken the children from the home of his estranged wife, Audrey. He is believed to be armed and traveling in a black station wagon with Oklahoma license plates.

The youngsters, Johnny, 8; Jimmy, 6; Mark, 3, and Jayann, 2, disappeared when left in care of two older half-sisters, Sharon, 14, and Connie, 16, while their mother was at work.

Watching TV

The children disappeared while the sisters were in the kitchen and the youngsters supposedly were watching television.

Fear was expressed for the safety of the children. Sheriff's officers said Mrs. Fields, 35, told them the father had threatened them after having kidnaped the children six weeks ago and driven them to Oklahoma. She quoted him:

"Next time I'll take them and if you tell police, I'll kill them."

Short Revolt

BUENOS AIRES (INS) — Two Peronist Argentine military leaders instigated a revolt in the city of Mendoza Wednesday, but the rebellion was quickly stamped out and little importance was given the action.

The principal leaders in the quick, but poorly planned insurrection were identified as Gen. Audisio Raviolo and Col. Reyes, both of whom were officers in the pro-Peron Army during the recent revolt which ousted the Argentine dictator.

Sweeping arrests of soldiers and civilians were made following the collapse of the revolt and the prisoners were taken to Buenos Aires by plane for questioning and internment.

Attlee Quits; Made Earl By Elizabeth

Struggle Starts For His Post

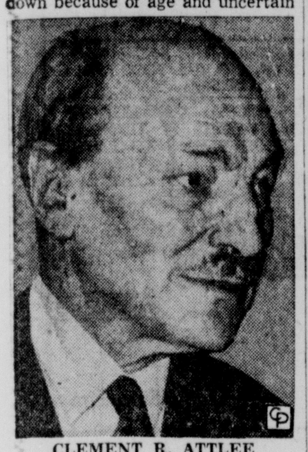

LONDON (Thursday) (AP) — Clement R. Attlee resigned as leader of Britain's Labor party and Queen Elizabeth II promptly made him an earl.

The father of Britain's welfare state resigned at a party caucus Wednesday. The queen announced the earldom early Thursday. The peerage is the traditional reward for long and outstanding political service. Attlee is expected to become leader of the Labor opposition in the House of Lords.

His resignation triggered a bitter power struggle between Leftist Aneurin Bevan and party moderates for his party mantle.

Age, Health

Attlee, 73 next month, stepped down because of age and uncertain health after 20 years in the post, six of them as prime minister in crisis-ridden times after World War II.

The bespectacled, pipe-smoking Socialist retired only seven months after age also forced Sir Winston Churchill, his friend and rival for political dominance, into private life.

Within minutes after Attlee announced his retirement at a party caucus, Leftist Bevan began openly canvassions support in balloting which begins Friday to name a new leader.

Gaitskell Favored

Most politicians, however, said the odds favored victory for Hugh Gaitskell, 49, a Socialist intellectual, or Attlee's lieutenant, Herbert Morrison, 67, a professional politician. Both are moderates.

The consensus appeared to be that Gaitskell has the edge.

The outcome, which may be known by next Wednesday, was seen as likely to determine whether Labor retains its present policy of intimate friendship with the United States in foreign affairs or swings toward the independent line advocated by Bevan. A Bevanite victory would be sure to mean Labor demands for sweeping new nationalization schemes and government controls.

Strong Challenger

Labor remains a strong challenger to the government of Prime Minister Eden, and the victor in the present struggle for power in the party could emerge as the country's next Prime Minister. Elections now are planned for in 1959.

Disheartened after the Conservatives dealt Labor a decisive defeat in the May national elections, Attlee indicated several months ago that he planned to make way for younger leadership.

His disclosure undermined his authority in the party, and he told Labor legislators Thursday his position had been made intolerable by jockeying among his would-be successors.

Dry, Casual

Attlee went out of public life as modestly as he lived in it. He announced his retirement in dry, casual langauge.

Laborites in the Commons committee room rose and sang "For he's a jolly good fellow" as a farewell tribute.

The retiring leader appeared moved. As he stood on the platform, a small man in black jacket and striped pants, tears welled in his eyes and his lips quivered.

Herman Taylor Ordered Before Ring Commission

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Herman Taylor, one of the nation's leading boxing promoters for the past quarter of a century, Wednesday was charged with taking over the management of a fighter by "coercion and threats" to the boxer's career.

The Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission ordered Taylor to appear Dec. 14 to show cause why the license as a promoter should not be suspended permanently. The commission also ordered Archie Pirolli, who did publicity in the promoter's office, to appear at the same hearing on charges of conspiring with Taylor in taking over the active management of George Johnson, a middleweight fighter.

Four-Part Indictment

Alfred Klein, local member of the three-man Pennsylvania commission, announced a four-part indictment of Taylor. The commission charged:

1. That Taylor associates with "criminals, bookmakers, gamblers or persons of similar ill-repute."

2. That the promoter "alone or in conspiracy with others, took over the management of boxer George Johnson on or about January, 15, 1954, from Johnson's then manager, Donald Rettman (Trenton, N.J.,) by coercion and threats to Johnson's future boxing career."

3. That Taylor failed to obtain a manager's license to direct Johnson's activities in the ring.

4. That since January 15, 1954, Taylor has had a financial interest in Johnson.

Taylor, who in cooperation with the International Boxing Club of New York has promoted many outstanding championship fights in Philadelphia, said he had received the commission's citation and was "undecided whether I will honor them with my presence at the hearing or not. If it's a crime to know people, I must be guilty of something."

Taylor said further that "I never have had any financial interest in any boxer since I became a promoter. As for my associations, none of them are partners in my boxing business."

Pirolli was charged with taking over the management of Johnson by coercion and threats; committing fraud and practicing deceit in securing his present manager's license, and filing a false contract with the commission involving Johnson.

Cite Palermo

The citations against Taylor and Pirolli followed Tuesday's announcement that fight manager Frank (Blinky) Palermo has been ordered to appear before the commission and show cause why his license should not be forfeited.

Palermo, manager of welterweight title contender Johnny Saxton, also was charged with a "long record of associations with known criminals and gamblers" which the commission deems not in the best interest of boxing. Palermo will be heard Dec. 12.

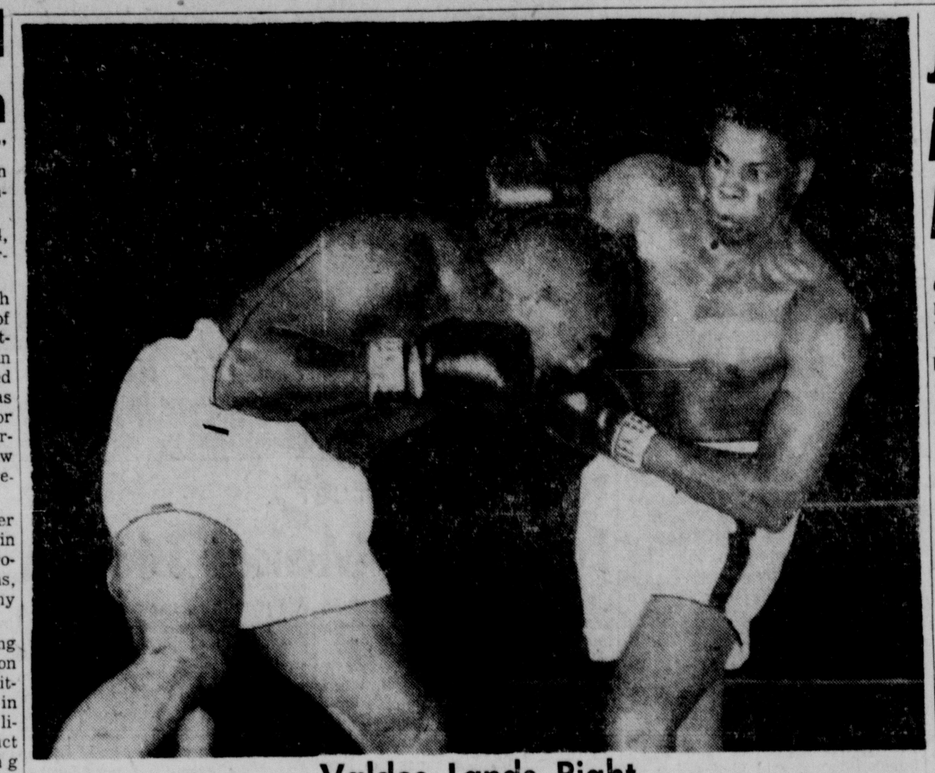

Hardin Sure Pete Will Say 'Yes'

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP) — Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin said here Wednesday night the University of Nebraska holds firm belief that Oklahoma Backfield Coach Pete Elliott will accept Nebraska's head coaching job offer after Oklahoma plays Maryland in the Orange Bowl.

The chancellor said football is a part of college life because the people demand it, and praised Athletic Director Bill Orwig as a man with "uncanny ability" to hire good men for coaching jobs.

Pointing to Nebraska's heavy schedule of non-conference games with outstanding teams in the next few years, Hardin said "we intend to win our share."

Hardin spoke at the annual Sidney Rotary Club banquet for Southern Panhandle athletes.

Valdes Lands Right

Baker Plods To Victory Over Valdes

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pudgy Bob Baker methodically plodded to a unanimous decision over Cuban Nino Valdes Wednesday night in a dull 10-round match that probably eliminated both the No. 2 and No. 3 challengers from any chance of a title shot at heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano.

The dreary heavyweight battle left light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore standing alone as the only man left for Marciano in a rematch, probably next June.

Boos and catcalls from the crowd of 8,380, paying $63,392 to see the nationally televised show, serenaded the two hulking men. At one stage the boys sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and applauded their own harmony. Later, in tune with the Christmas show, they switched to "Jingle Bells" while the big men tugged and shoved.

Referee Tony LaBranche kept up a continuous line of chatter at the heavyweights, yelling "Come on, let's start. Shake it up. Quit holding. Let's see something." Before the seventh round he visited the corners of both men advising them to step up the pace—or else.

Bobby Gleason, Valdes' manager, punched as hard as his 207-pound Cuban as he bopped him on the seat of the pants at the start of each round. Baker's corner kept yelling "Move in. Don't step back."

Lausse Defeats John L. Sullivan

CLEVELAND (AP) — Eduardo Lausse, a scowling Argentine with designs on Bobo Olson's middleweight title, stopped John L. Sullivan of Preston, England, Wednesday night on a technical knockout in 1:00 of the fifth round of a co-featured match on the Cleveland News annual Christmas show.

Randy Slaps At Critics

Jackson Predicts Homer Boom As Bum

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — Third baseman Randy Jackson, irked at being called a "lackadaisical" Chicago Cub player, predicted Wednesday he will belt "at least" 30 home runs for the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers next season.

Jackson Tuesday was traded by the Cubs to Brooklyn for third baseman Don Hoak and outfielder Walt Moryn in the opening of a deal expected to conclude next week with veteran pitcher Russ Meyer going to the Cubs for a young pitcher.

"I'm really teed off at these writers who have called me lackadaisical and lacking in spirit," said the 29-year-old Jackson, who hit 21 Cub homers last season and 87 since joining the Bruins in 1950.

"By nature, I'm not a fireball and I try to be relaxed," handsome Ransom continued. "But no one tries to get the job done harder than I do. There are some players who make a lot of noise and talk a better game than they play.

"But you take men like Gil Hodges of the Dodgers or Ernie Banks of the Cubs, they're quiet and retiring, but don't tell me they're lackadaisical."

Jackson said Brooklyn's Ebbets Field was certain to boost his home-run production.

"I'll be disappointed if I don't hit at least 30 homers a season for Brooklyn," he said. "I hit a long ball to left center and right center that gets caught in Wrigley Field, but should be a homer with the right wood behind it in Brooklyn.

"I guess I always got two or three home runs a year in Brooklyn; I'll love to play there for a whole year."

Jackson said he felt "wonderful" about moving from a second-division club to the world champions.

"I really think Brooklyn will repeat as champion next year," he said. "They have a lot of good young pitchers. I know I'll do my best and I think I can help the ball club. I hope to make a few Chicago sportswriters eat their words about me lacking fire and hustle."

Jackson said "It'll make a lot of difference playing with a club that's right up in there. It gets tiresome, year after year, playing when there's nothing to fight for late in the season."

Jackson will continue his Chicago insurance business he recently opened. He was the second Cub in the same outside business to be traded within a matter of days. Relief pitcher Hal Jeffcoat had to deliberate about leaving his insurance business before agreeing to report to the Cincinnati Redlegs last week.

Yale Cagers Trip Connecticut, 92-87

STORRS, Conn. (AP)—Yale's Johnny Lee and Charles Ross scored 61 points between them Wednesday night as they paced the Elis to a 92-87 upset victory over Connecticut. It was Yale's first victory over the Uconns in six years.

Yale led except for a brief period in the second half when the favored Huskies tied the score at 50-50.

Irish Win On Hook Shot In Overtime

Donelli Rumored New Steeler Pilot

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Sun - Telegraph said today "there's a rumor" that Aldo (Buff) Donelli will become head football coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers next season. Donelli now is head coach at Boston University.

Officials of the Steelers football team were not immediately available for comment. Walt Kiesling is head coach for the Steelers now. His team has won four, lost seven and still has one to play this year.

Donelli served as an assistant coach with the Steers and Philadelphia Eagles when they combined the teams in the war year of 1941. He also was head football coach at Duquesne University in Pittsburgh then.

Bluebirds Seek Second Victory

The Cathedral Bluebirds will be seeking their second win of the basketball campaign tonight when they travel to Norfolk Sacred Heart.

Coach Vine Aldrich's 'Birds, after winning their opener handily, were edged by Concordia of Seward Tuesday in a see-saw battle which ended with Concordia ahead, 58-55.

The Sacred Heart game will be the last scrap this week for Cathedral. They do not play Omaha Holy Name Saturday as previously announced.

NSAA Meeting Set

The Representative Assembly of the Nebraska School Activities Association will meet in the Chamber of Commerce Building Thursday at 8 p.m.

Delegates from the six districts in the state will attend the meeting.

Jones JC Disregards Racial Storm

PASADENA (INS) — Coach Jim Clark ignored the racial issue reported brewing back home and wheeled his 37-man Jones County Jaysee football squad through a brisk workout Wednesday for Saturday's Junior Rose Bowl game against Compton.

The Jones team arrived from Ellisville Tuesday night amid a growing storm that threatens to rival the Georgia Tech incident.

The ruckus has been fostered by Mississippians who frown at the idea of Jones playing against the California Junior College team because it has eight Negroes on its squad.

Coach Clark refused to be drawn into the issue, saying:

"We all think it's better not to say anything."

Members of the squad were noncommittal over the fuss.

All of them admitted they never had played football with or against a Negro before, but Co-Capt. Paul Hitchcock said:

"We all want to play football. It doesn't matter who is on the other side."

Halback Eddie Gebara, scoring leader of the visitors, said members of the squad were ready to play anybody but that he did not feel free to discuss ramifications of the racial issue.

But Bill Young, assistant to Jones President, J. B. Young, said:

"We signed a contract to play the game. We have no intention of breaking it. We take our problems one at a time. Right now we're concerned with trying to win the bowl game."

5 'Raiders' Suspended

ATHENS, Ga. (INS)—Five students have been suspended at the University of Georgia as a result of two mass demonstrations against a Board of Regents ruling on segregated football games.

The demonstrations Tuesday night and Monday night, one of which turned into a "panty raid," protested the decision by the regents that athletic teams at Georgia-owned schools cannot play non-segregated contests in Georgia.

Physical Education Leaders To Meet

Harold T. Grierood, secretary for health and physical education of the YMCA National Council, will visit Lincoln Thursday and meet with local phys-ed leaders.

He will be guest speaker at a noon luncheon at the YMCA. Attending will be members of the Lincoln Y's physical education committee as well as representatives from the Uninversity of Nebraska, Nebraska Wesleyan, the public schools and the city recreation department.

Brigham Young Coach Resigns

Kansas Clips Wichita 56-55

WICHITA, Kan.(AP)—The University of Kansas Jayhawks struck quickly early in the second half to overcome the Wichita Wheatshockers 56-55 in a non-conference basketball game Wednesday night. A capacity crowd of 10,000 turned out for the dedication feature of Wichita's new field house.

Wichita started fast and enjoyed a 28-23 lead by halftime. Then the Jayhawks hit for 8 successive points before Wichita could score in the second half. The visitors increased their advantage to 36-31 a few minutes later, then held on as Wichita rallied in the closing minutes.

Actually Kansas won at the free throw line, making 16 of 26 free throws to 11 of 22 for Wichita. Wichita outshot the Jayhawks 22 to 20 from the field.

Royals Whip Lakers

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — The Rochester Royals outscored Minneapolis by 16 points in the third period and went on to beat the Minneapolis Lakers 92-79 in a National Basketball Association game Wednesday night.

Bergesch Delighted About American Association Status

OMAHA (INS) — Bill Bergesch, general manager of the Omaha Cardinals, asserted Wednesday that the American Baseball Association "is in a better position today than it has been for many years."

Bergesch, who attended last week's minor league meeting in Columbus, O., said he could see no reason for "all the gloom" at the meeting over the future of the Association.

He said the Association has a "very good chance" of setting an all-time attendance record next year and declared:

"There's nothing wrong with baseball that a good interesting club, clean stadiums, parking facilities, clean attractive concession operators and a club's personal interest in the fan won't cure."

Bergesch said new stadiums at Minneapolis and St. Paul should increase fan support there in 1956 and added that Omaha and Denver should do at least as well in 1956 as they did in 1955. He predicted the newest Association club, Wichita, would get "tremendous approval and fan support" and draw at least 250,000, and also looked for Charleston to become a contender in the pennant race under the sponsorship of Detroit.

More Support From Outstate

OMAHA (AP) — Missouri River waterfowl hunters will have more moral support from an outstate Nebraska group when they meet in Missouri Valley, Iowa, Thursday night in an effort to get some agreement on river policies concerning reserves and seasons.

The meeting has been called to set up a permanent organization of Missouri River hunters.

Bill Owens, secretary of the Lincoln County Wildlife Club at North Platte has written that his group will give full support to any wishes of the Missouri River group.

Cincinnati Raps Tennessee, 109-82

CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Cincinnati's Bearcats soared over the 100 mark in points for the second time in as many basketball games Wednesday night as they walloped Tennessee 109-82.

Phil Wheeler, captain of the veteran Bearcat squad, got 20 points to go with the 31 he scored Saturday night in Cincinnati's 107-71 triumph over Pepperdine.

St. Louis Trips Centenary, 95-84

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Surprised by speedy Centenary College in the first half, the St. Louis University Billikens moved Jib (Legs) McLaughlin back to his old center post and overpowered the Gents 95-84 Wednesday night for their second straight basketball victory.

Sprained Ankle Hobbles Smidt

The University of Nebraska basketball team may be without the services of sophomore Don Smidt when it opens its home season Friday night against Texas Tech.

Smidt suffered a sprained ankle last week against Iowa and has been hobbling badly in practice. Smidt started at forward against the Hawks.

Coach Jerry Bush also reported that Rex Ekwall and Bob Mercier have been bothered by a touch of flu and may see only limited duty.

SE Swimmers To Open At NE

Southeast swimming coach John Reta has announced an 11-meet schedule for the Knight mermen.

This is the first year the school has competed in swimming. The Knights will open the season at Northeast Thursday at 4 p.m.

Reta named several newcomers who have shown promise in practice. They include:

Bill Goldman, Ed Jancke, Mike Thompson, Fred Ferris, Tom Davis, Jim Pardee, Jim Frank, Richard Garlinghouse, Jack Briggs and Mike Drake.

Schedule

Dec. 8—at Northeast; 14—All-City Warmup at Northeast.
Jan. 6—Hastings; 11—at Lincoln High; 13—at Omaha Tech; 20—Omaha Tech.
Feb. 1—Lincoln High; 3—at Hastings; 7—Northeast; 10-11—City Meet; 18—State Meet.

Price To Fulfill Texas Contract

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Football Coach Ed Price of the University of Texas spiked rumors that he would resign Wednesday with a statement that he would fulfill his contract that has two years to run.

Welsh, Luppino Share Offensive Grid Honors

NEW YORK (AP) — Navy's George Welsh and Arizona's Art Luppino shared individual offensive honors of major college football with the Middie quarterback carrying off top honors largely because of his right arm.

Welsh, who also won the passing title, topped the Arizona junior by 35 yards in the close battle for total offense honors—thanks to 185 yards gained through the air against Army in Navy's final game.

Welsh had a season's total of 1,348 yards in nine games according to figures released Wednesday by the NCAA Service Bureau. Luppino, held to 68 yards in his last game against Arizona State, picked up 1,313 in 10 games. All of Luppino's yardage was on the ground which gave him the rushing crown for the second straight year.

All-Time Record

The all-time college total offense record seems in the grasp of the Arizona back. With one season still remaining, he's only 168 yards short of the mark of 3,212 yards set by Wisconsin's Alan Ameche, now playing with the Baltimore Colts.

In winning the offense crown, Welsh did it in 203 plays, tying the all-time low by a champion set by Bob Fenimore of Oklahoma A&M in 1945. Luppino used 209 plays to gain his 1,313 yards—an average of 6.28.

Michigan State's All-America Earl Morrall was the No. 1 man in average gain for rushing-passing plays with 9.1 yards. All-America Howard (Hopalong) Cassady of Ohio State figured in the most rushing-passing plays, 249 — one more than John Majors of Tennessee.

Patterson, Slade Mix

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Young Floyd Patterson, a slightly beefed-up light - heavyweight, and veteran Jimmy Slade of New York wound up light drills Wednesday, with 20-year-old Floyd a 3-1 favorite to win their 10-round fight at the Olympic Auditorium Thursday night.

Both fighters have aspirations to tackle heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano.

Patterson, the pride of Brooklyn, and Slade met in New York in November, 1954. Slade was on the canvas five times and his purse was held up several days. Later it was paid after a commission probe.

Short Notice

Slade reiterated Wednesday that he took the fight on short notice, just two weeks after a tough one with Bob Baker.

"This time it will be the real me in there. I've been after this rematch ever since the New York fight," he declared.

Patterson, No. 1 contender for Archie Moore's light - heavyweight crown, will weigh around 178 pounds.

Milwaukee Wants Pirates' Thomas

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Joe Brown, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, said Wednesday he is considering an offer from the Milwaukee Braves, who want the Pirates' slugging outfielder, Frank Thomas.

"The Braves are interested in one player," Brown said after his return from the major league meetings at Chicago. "They have made us a couple of offers and we are now considering the latest one. It is much better than the seven for one offering by Cincinnati. There is less quantity and more quality. We will try to improve ourselves if we give up one player."

Cornell Rallies, Whips Colgate

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—Cornell's basketball team, behind 12 points with 15 minutes left, staged a second-half rally Wednesday night to trip Colgate 82-76.

Chuck Rolles put in 25 points—10 of them in the hard going. Sophomore Larry Pearson scored 10 in the clutch session and grabbed several important rebounds.

Dayton Smashes Miami (O.), 73-50

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Unbeaten Dayton racked up its third straight basketball victory Wednesday night, whipping Miami of Ohio 73-50 in a non-conference game.

Forward Jim Paxson was high for Dayton with 19 points on eight field goals and three free throws. Guard Ray Dieringer rang up 14, all in the first half.

Bullpen To Rescue?

Louisville Makes Bid To Save Team

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Bullpen Club, facing a 48-hour deadline, called a meeting Wednesday night to solicit funds to save Louisville's American Assn. baseball franchise.

By Friday morning, the cost of the franchise — $50,000 — must be raised or Louisville faces the loss of baseball. The Boston Red Sox, who own the franchise, want a down payment of $5,000 immediately, with the remaining money due Feb. 1.

The Bullpen Club meeting brings Ed Doherty, president of the Association, actively into the picture on Louisville's side to keep the franchise from going to Toledo, now without baseball.

Doherty is a member of the Bullpen Club, an organization of active professional and former professional ballplayers and others associated with baseball.

"This thing (to save baseball for Louisville) needs some active fighting leadership it hasn't got so far," said Jim Burris, secretary of the American Assn. and president of the Bullpen Club.

He had the club members contact possible big-share buyers by telephone.

The club acted after the Chamber of Commerce discussed presenting to the fans an opportunity to buy stock and make the Colonels a fan-owned club. Stock may be bought for $10 shares.

The Red Sox general manager, Joe Cronin, Tuesday turned down a request by the chamber for an extension of the Friday deadline.

Cronin repeated he has another buyer ready with the cash. This is a citizens' group of Toledo, which would buy the franchise and move it to Toledo, which lost the AA franchise to Wichita, Kansas.

Doherty said "I feel sure this thing will go over."

The Colone' manager, Freddie Grimm, told the chamber he had a man who would put up $20,000 to buy the Louisville franchise if the other needed $30,000 was raised in some other fashion. He declined to name the benefactor.

International Loop Franchise To Syracuse Or To Miami

★ ★ ★ ★

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Martin Haske, owner of the Syracuse club of the International Baseball League, said Wednesday night the team will either remain in Syracuse or be moved to Miami.

Haske said he had made a "binding agreement" to sell his Syracuse franchise and assets to Sidney Salomon Jr., and Elliott Stein for approximately $100,000, subject to these three stipulations:

1. Failure of a Syracuse citizens baseball committee to raise necessary capital by tomorrow night.

2. Ability of Salomon and Stein to work out a satisfactory lease on Miami Stadium.

3. Subject to approval of the transfer to Miami of the Syracuse club.

Haske said he had turned down a bid from George Storer, radio and television station operator, and would negotiate no further with a Toledo, Ohio, group.

Hopes For Syracuse

"I still have hopes of the Syracuse citizens coming through," Haske said. "I'm an optimist, but I know things don't always work out the way you want them to."

Haske said at a press conference at Salomon's home here that he had little difficulty reaching a satisfactory agreement with Salomon and Stein.

The Syracuse assets, Haske explained, include the franchise, three players and one-sixth equity in the league's reserves, reportedly $240,000. Richmond and Havana do not share fully in this because they became members of the league only two years ago.

Salomon said that if the Syracuse franchise is transferred, Bill Veeck Jr., former president and general manager of the Cleveland Indians and St. Louis Browns, would "come with us and run the show."

Fragile Sugar Ray Busy During Hey-Day

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Ray Robinson will make a bid to regain the world middleweight championship Friday night in Chicago, assuming that he does not come up, or down, with some mysterious malady overnight.

The Sugar Kid has been suspended oftener than a bird cage for failure to be where he was supposed to be under terms of contracts, and two of his three bouts with Bobo Olson, including the one scheduled Friday, had to be deferred because he reported injuries, although he escaped suspension in those instances.

He came up with an aching back on the first occasion, in 1952, but a few weeks later he polished off Bobo with neatness, if not with the dispatch of their first meeting. He had knocked out Olson in 12 rounds in 1950, and the 1952 affair went 15, thus posing the problem of whether Ray had slipped or Bobo had improved.

Friday's bout originally was scheduled for Nov. 24, but Robinson reported he had suffered a sprained ankle in training.

In fact, from his record of injuries suffered in training, it would seem that Robinson insisted on working out with Gargantua. At various times he has yelled "ouch" because of his sacroiliac, a sprained ankle, an injured hand and a bad shoulder, and asked that fights be postponed.

At other times he didn't go into such detail, such as the occasion last March when, a few hours before he was supposed to meet Georgie Small in Boston, he just said he was sick. Not half as sick as the promoters, though.

Despite numerous suspensions, though, Sugar Ray was a remarkably busy fighter in his hey - day. It was a case of suspended animation, you might say. In 1950 he participated in 19 fights. In 1951 he had 11, then suddenly dropped down to three in the first six months of 1952 before announcing his retirement.

He was absent from the ring for 30 months, and that fact is the prime basis for argument concerning Friday night's encounter.

Robinson justly is rated one of the greatest fighters, pound for pound, who ever lived. That the Sugar Ray of 1950 would be a prohibitive favorite to again defeat Bobo Friday, even granting that Olson has improved, generally is conceded.

But those 30 months gathering ring rust are bound to have taken their toll. He was rather pathetic in his second comeback fight this year, in which he lost to Ralph "Tiger" Jones. In his last outing he outpointed Rocky Castellani, but he was oh, so tired, and at times it seemed his legs just wouldn't hold him up. And that bout went only 10 rounds.

At 35, Robinson's age, the legs ain't what they used to be even if a man has been fighting regularly. Once they are gone, they're gone, that's all.

Some observers are of the opinion that the Olson of just before his fight with Archie Moore would have been a cinch to win Friday night. They still think he will win, but they're hedging a little. They don't know how much the knockout at the hands of Moore, and recent family difficulties, might have taken out of the champion.

Personally, we think that Robinson has a real good chance—if he gets to Bobo early. The longer it goes, the shorter are Ray's chances. He might collapse of sheer exhaustion in a late round if Olson crowds him with the perpetual motion attack which was his style until he met Moore.

Colt Tackle Quits; To Be Policeman

BALTIMORE (AP)—Tom Finnin, one of the "Ferocious Five" on defense for the Baltimore Colts, announced Wednesday "I'm through with football positively."

The 255-pound tackle said he will become a full-time cop in Chicago.

Finnin joined the Baltimore Colts two years ago in a trade with the New York Giants whom he joined in 1950. He dislocated a shoulder in last Sunday's game at Los Angeles and will be just a spectator at the final Colt game against San Francisco.

Paralyzed Gridder To Receive $6,000

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Allen Felch, the former Kentucky fullback who was left paralyzed by a swimming accident, will receive a $6,000 check Sunday, the contribution of countless Kentucky football fans.

Athletic Director Bernie Shively and Co-Capt. Bob Hardy will fly to Chicago to visit Felch and his wife at Hines Veterans' Hospital and present the check.

Felch was injured four days before his Army discharge was due last summer and had planned to return to school this fall.

Most of the money was chipped in by fans at the Kentucky-Tennessee game last month and additional contributions came in by mail.

It's the brand that makes the gift important!

When you're giving whiskey, it's the name on the bottle that makes the gift great. For elaborate packaging and fancy bottle shapes can never replace the respect Americans have for a great name in whiskey.

Seagram's 7 Crown is such a name; for this brand has meant finest whiskey to more millions of Americans for more years than any other whiskey in history. That is why it is America's most popular gift whiskey—by millions of bottles.

Harriman Charges Dulles With Great Disservice To U.S. In Goa Statement

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Averell Harriman, a potential candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said Wednesday Secretary of State Dulles "did our nation a great disservice when he associated us with Portugal in India's dispute over Goa."

He made the statement during an interview shortly before lunching with Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.). Humphrey said he agreed with Harriman.

Dulles said Tuesday his statement issued jointly with Dr. Paulo Cunha, Portugal's foreign minister, took no position on the Goa dispute but was issued to "express our concern" at Soviet leaders' promoting prejudice and hate in a situation that "needs to be dealt with in a spirit of calm."

Goa is a Portuguese possession on India's west coast which India claims.

Harriman said "the excessive statements of (Nikita S.) Khrushchev were beginning to arouse antagonism in India and Burma—the Indians were beginning to swing away from the Russian leaders. But then Dulles statement saved the Russian situation."

The Dulles-Cunha statement reportedly angered Indians because it referred to Goa as a Portuguese province. Indians consider it a colony which should be freed and become a part of India.

Back To India

ASANOL, India (AP) — Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party Secretary Nikita Khruschchev flew back to India from Burma Wednesday on the home stretch of the tour of South Asia.

They hurried through this highly industrialized valley in Bengal in a whirlwind inspection of factories that left little time for talking.

One item on the program was the Chittaranjan locomotive works where the Indian government has just completed the 300th engine. Crammed into the front seat of a British-built "jeep," with the director of the locomotive works driving them, Bulganin and Khruschev went roaring swiftly down one section of the huge plant and up another.

Quick Look

The visiting Communists then took a quick look at the almost completed Maithon Dam of Damodar Valley scheme, a power, irrigation and flood control project.

The last halt of the day was at Sindri, the Indian government's huge fertilizer plant.

Meanwhile, India still seethed with repercussions of the statement by U.S. Secretary of State Dulles and Portuguese Foreign Minister Paulo Cunha deploring "all efforts to foment hatred between East and West" by Bulganin and Khrushchev on their Asian tour, and especially their "allegations concerning Portuguese provinces in the Far East."

Bigger Gains

CHICAGO (INS) — Industries heavily concentrated in the Midwest are scoring bigger profit gains this year than those located in most other areas, according to the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

The bank said that this favorable profit showing reflected the "above average" business pickup noted in the Midwest.

Nebraska City Awaits Omaha Sewage Action

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb. (AP) — The mayor of Nebraska City says that when Omaha acts to dispose of its sewage other than dumping it in the Missouri River, then Nebraska City will act also.

Mayor Victor Bremer made the comment on a letter from T. A. Filipi, state sanitation chief, which chided Nebraska City for a "do nothing" attitude toward sewage disposal.

The letter was read to the City Commission.

Bremer said he has several times informed Filipi that Nebraska City will take steps toward sewage disposal only after Omaha, its upriver neighbor, does.

International House Eyed

NU May Get Building For Faculty Club By '57

INTERNATIONAL HOUSE

By BARBARA HEMPHILL
Star Staff Writer

Physical facilities for a University of Nebraska faculty club might be available on the campus by 1957, Dr. A. C. Breckenridge said Wednesday noon.

He said completion of a proposed addition to the Residence Halls for Women is expected to make International House available as a possible site for such a club.

Dr. Breckenridge made the informal committee report at the weekly meeting of the Faculty Luncheon Club.

Organized this fall, the luncheon club meets in the Student Union.

Difficulty Was 'Where?'

"Plans for organization of a faculty club, under discussion here for years, usually bogged down because of the difficulty of finding a place for it," Dr. Breckenridge said.

The absence of physical facilities usually means there is no kind of faculty program, he said, just as there usually cannot be a complete student activities program at a university which has no Student Union.

Dr. Breckenridge, dean of faculties at the University, is a member of a committee appointed by the Faculty Luncheon Club president to investigate possibilities of finding a faculty club building.

Other committee members are Mary Jean Mulvaney, Prof. Robert Feeney, Prof. David Dow and Carl Donaldson, purchasing agent for the university.

Would Need Fixing

If the International House building at 1520 R were to be used for a faculty club, Dr. Breckenridge said, it would need considerable renovation.

International House, a former sorority house acquired by the University in 1944 and made a part of the domitory system, now houses 33 women.

If the faculty decides it wants to use the building, Dr. Breckenridge said, it would be available when its residents are housed in the $600,000 addition to the Residence Halls for Women expected to be complete in the fall of 1956.

The L-shaped addition, to be attached to the south of the present women's dormitory, will provide housing for 160 women.

Aircrafts Strong In Mixed Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made a late retreat Wednesday after spending most of the session in a thoroughly mixed condition.

The split trend was featured by strength in aircrafts and weakness in railroads.

Prices changed widely at the outside, but the bulk of the list posted small gains or losses.

Currently the stock market is in a curious situation, according to those who like to follow market movements through charts of the averages.

Take the Associated Press average of 60 stocks as a yardstick. Last Monday the average worked its way up to $181.50, equal to the old record high established Sept. 23. That was just before the major reaction that teed off on news of the President's illness. On Tuesday the average remained unchanged.

The fact that the average was unable to break through and establish a new closing high was disconcerting to chartists.

At least some of the selling Wednesday was traced to disappointment over the action of the averages as they reflected the state of the market itself.

The AP average of 60 stocks Wednesday was down 60 cents at $180.90 with the industrial component off 20 cents, railroads lower by $1.70 and utilities off 10 cents.

Business amounted to 2,480,000 shares compared with 2,540,000 shares traded Tuesday.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed on volume of 980,000 shares.

Wheat Makes Gain Third Straight Day

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat continued to roll upward on the Board of Trade Wednesday, marking the third straight day this week of advances.

The gains Wednesday were larger than in the previous sessions.

Where wheat had gone ahead all by itself Tuesday, it was joined by rye Wednesday. The latter grain often takes its cue from wheat.

Other cereals were never able to get anywhere, closing with small gains and losses.

Wheat closed 1½-3¼ higher, corn ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, oats unchanged to ¼ lower and rye 1 to 2⅛ higher.

Soybeans closed unchanged to ¼ higher and lard unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Daylight Raid

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—An armed gang made a daylight raid on a police station at Rizokarpaso in northeast Cyprus, escaping with five guns and a radio set. Violence also continued in Nicosia. Four British soldiers walking on one of the capital's streets were wounded by a burst of automatic fire. Their assailants, two civilians, escaped.

Heumann Heads New Northeast Business Group

A Northeast Lincoln Businessmen's Council has been organized and officers elected.

Herbert H. Heumann was elected chairman of the Council for the coming year at the organizational meeting held Wednesday night.

Other officers are John D. Strauss, vice chairman; Walter Holmes, secretary, and John I. Hobbs, treasurer.

Sixteen representatives from eight clubs in northeast Lincoln will serve on the Council for the coming year. They are Ed Edwards and Ralph Gerberling, Havelock Businessmen's Club; Jack T. Smith and John I. Hobbs, Havelock Lions Club; Walter Holmes and Harold Hilyard, University Place Businessmen's Club.

Duane M. Hunt and Clint Mason will represent the University Place Lions Club; Robert Mahoney and Garland Shields, Bethany Lions Club; Gene Cottier and John Dunbar, Bethany Businessmen's Association.

Representing the Northeast Rotary Club are Herbert Heumann and John Strauss. Bill Ettinger and Harvey Gates will represent the Miracle Mile Businessmen's Club.

HERBERT HEUMANN

Harold Hilyard said the group drew up a tentative list of things they hope to accomplish for northeast Lincoln. It includes:

1. Promoting the general welfare of the community.
2. Advertising northeast Lincoln in a general way.
3. Encouraging industry in the northeast area.
4. Promoting business for northeast Lincoln.
5. Seeing that police protection is provided and that traffic problems are dealt with.
6. Promoting general projects such as swimming pools, community buildings, getting representation on the Board of Education, city committees, City Council, planning boards and other groups.

The Council plans to sell associate memberships to citizens of the community.

It will meet the first Wednesday of each month at 8 p.m. at 3615 No. 48th.

'Brake Car Gently,' Cautions America's Safest Driver

NEW YORK (INS) — Rene Gouirand, who has driven more than one million miles without an accident, won the title "Safest Driver in America."

The 70-year-old automotive engineer and inventor still drives an average 15,000 miles a year and a good part of it at better than 70 miles an hour, although he never breaks a speed limit. Well, almost never. He received a ticket in 1905 for speeding down New York's Fifth Avenue — on a bicycle.

Gouirand, born in Paris but a resident of Manhattan for 52 years, received his title and a trophy from the Car-Life Laboratories of Washington, D. C.

He said drivers too often forget that modern autos have great power in comparatively light bodies and that this combination means a loss of control when brakes are applied hard or suddenly.

"Brake gently and evenly especially at high speeds."

Notice of Sale of Oil And Gas Lease

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Educational Lands and Funds of the State of Nebraska will offer for sale at public auction to be held at the office of said Board in the State Capitol Building on the 6th day of January 1956, at 10 o'clock A.M., oil and gas leases covering the following described lands situated in the following counties, Nebraska, towit:

LINCOLN COUNTY:
All of Section 16, Township 10 North, Range 34 West.
All of Section 16, Township 10 North, Range 30 West.

PERKINS CONNTY:
All of Section 16, Township 10 North, Range 36 West.

Such leases will be sold in accordance with and subject to the provisions of Legislative Bill No. 415, passed by the Nebraska State Legislature at its 56th (1943) Session, to the highest and best bidder, subject to the right of the Board to reject any and all bids.

BLAST IN GERMANY KILLS 25

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — A mysterious explosion at dawn Wednesday demolished new five-story apartment building in midtown Frankfurt, killing 25 of its 32 occupants. Seven of the dead were children.

German police reported they were investigating the possibility political assassins were responsible for the blast which trapped sleeping tenants. The explosion was heard two miles away.

Among the dead was the Slovak-born architect-owner of the building, Mathias Stenczel, 58, and police were attempting to learn whether he had political enemies in Slovak exile circles.

An official of the Communist Hungarian trade mission here and his wife survived the explosion, police said. They were identified as Istvan Szeles, 29, and Eve Szeles, 23.

Other possibilities investigated by police were that a dud aerial bomb from World War II exploded under the building into which 12 families moved two weeks ago; that gas seeped from a city main into the structure, or that a tenant had unlawfully tried to tap the gas main.

The explosion, at 5:40 a.m., was the worst disaster in West Germany's vast postwar building program. All that was left of the structure was a 20-foot high mound of broken concrete and splintered wood.

BRITISH, RUSS GIVE UP BARGE TRAFFIC ROLE

BERLIN (AP) — Britain and the Soviet Union have waived control on canal traffic to Berlin but the British announced they still hold the Russians fully responsible for keeping open the waterway lifeline to the isolated city.

In Berlin, Bonn and London, British Foreign Office spokesmen disclosed the Russians have bowed out of the administration of the canal which feeds West Berlin 24 per cent of its total supplies.

This means the East German Communist government will handle canal permits and other inland waterway problems through the canal bureau in Magdeburg. The West Germans deal with some paper problems on the subject in Hamburg.

North Star Lodge 227 Elects Elner Olander

North Star Lodge 227, AF&AM, Wednesday night elected Elner A. Olander worshipful master. Others elected were:

GOC Tower To Be Built At 30th And B

A tower for the use of the Ground Observer Corps will be built at 30th and B streets, it was announced Wednesday night following a meeting of the finance and site committees of the local corps organization.

The site is a corner of Antelope Park which will be cut off by the new southeast diagonal. GOC officials said they had received city permission to build on the property.

The tower will be an aluminum "ready-made" 20-25 foot structure and will cost about $2,000.

Named to the building committee were Mrs. H. T. Murphy, R. T. Roscoe, George Vlasnick, Mrs. Mary Shaw, Arnold Boettcher and Mrs. Ralph Fox.

Head of a committee to raise the needed $2,000 is Mrs. Forrest Gibbs.

Committee members said the site was chosen because it is centrally located, has good bus facilities, and was available for the purpose.

Union College has canceled the use of the College tower as an observer tower because the building is now being used as a dormitory.

Tree Imports OKd

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The government has authorized imports of 90,000 Christmas trees from the United States and Canada. Mexico forbids cutting its own during a build-up of depleted forest reserves.

Notice to Contractors

Sealed proposals will be received by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, at the office of the City Clerk, up to 10 o'clock a.m., Central Standard Time, Wednesday, December 14, 1955, for the construction of the sewer in Sewer District No. 607, being the sewer in 11th Street from High Street to 450 feet south of High Street, in said City, according to the plans and specifications of the City Engineer on file in the office of the City Clerk.

Plans and specifications may be seen and blank proposals obtained in the office of the City Engineer.

The City Engineer's estimate of the cost of this sewer is $1,700.00.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $85.00, made payable to Frank J. Miller, City Treasurer, as a guarantee of good faith.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all proposals and to waive any defect in proposals.

THEO. H. BERG, City Clerk.
